From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:42 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Juris Svarcbergs <svarcbergs1@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Juris Svarcbergs <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Juris Svarcbergs
16 Wilburtha Rd
Ewing, NJ 08628-2616
svarcbergs1@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:42 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Margaret Felton <mmf334@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Margaret Felton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Margaret Felton
38 Woodstream Ct
Mantua, NJ 08051-2140
mmf334@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:42 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carroll Arkema <arkemac@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Carroll Arkema <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carroll Arkema
221 Ringwood Ave Apt A-3
Pompton Lakes, NJ 07442-2044
arkemac@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:42 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Peter Fritz <pfritz5976@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Peter Fritz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Peter Fritz
303 Union Ave
Delanco, NJ 08075-4655
pfritz5976@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Shawn Davis <shawnee11481@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Shawn Davis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Shawn Davis
517B Howard Blvd
Lake Hopatcong, NJ 07849
shawnee11481@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lauren Soltis <lauren.soltis@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Lauren Soltis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lauren Soltis
557 Rosemont Ringoes Rd
Sergeantsville, NJ 08557-9998
lauren.soltis@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "E. Gallagher" <eg@tltd.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, E. Gallagher <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

E. Gallagher
1500 Broadway
New York, NY 10036-4015
eg@tltd.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Paul Rinear <paul@freedomweb.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Paul Rinear <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Paul Rinear
109 Wilson Ave
Aberdeen, NJ 07747-3366
paul@freedomweb.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jen perlaki <jenperlaki@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Jen perlaki <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jen perlaki
18 Southhall Ct
Wayne, NY 10011
jenperlaki@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Michael Stevens <mike55577@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Michael Stevens <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Michael Stevens
40 Christopher Mills Dr
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-3360
mike55577@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia Coleman <patcole@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Patricia Coleman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia Coleman
26 Blue Ridge Rd
Titusville, NJ 08560-1716
patcole@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tyler Gale <hellotyler5@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Tyler Gale <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tyler Gale
24 Grant Ct
Clementon, NJ 08021-2703
hellotyler5@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia Reslan <reslan@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Patricia Reslan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia Reslan
22 Berkshire Dr
Princeton Junction, NJ 08550-1233
reslan@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tatyana Vroman <tatyanavroman@dancewithfood.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Tatyana Vroman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tatyana Vroman
167 Hidden Dr
Blackwood, NJ 08012-4431
tatyanavroman@dancewithfood.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Steven Kostis <steventhechipmunk@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Steven Kostis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Steven Kostis
261 W 28th St Apt 2c
New York, NY 10001-5936
steventhechipmunk@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Raymond Bey <kiminigin1@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Raymond Bey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Raymond Bey
2707 Winslow Rd
Williamstown, NJ 08094-4036
kiminigin1@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barry Smith <barrysmith796@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Barry Smith <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barry Smith
796 E 19th St
Brooklyn, NY 11230-1808
barrysmith796@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:45 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Evan Acuna <eacuna@udel.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Evan Acuna <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Evan Acuna
116 Weldon Way
Pennington, NJ 08534-1829
eacuna@udel.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:45 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Christine Koehler <cioci0357@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Christine Koehler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Christine Koehler
59 Evelyn Ave
Vineland, NJ 08360-4931
cioci0357@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:45 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Friend Friend <jeffreagan0@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Friend Friend <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Friend Friend
624 Park Ave
Hoboken, NJ 07030-3926
jeffreagan0@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:45 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bill Kastning <wkastning@monmouthconservation.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Bill Kastning <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bill Kastning
PO Box 4150
Middletown, NJ 07748-4150
wkastning@monmouthconservation.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:45 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patti J <pattij62@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Patti J <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patti J
471 Alloway Aldine Rd
Elmer, NJ 08318-2928
pattij62@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:46 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Geoffrey Close <geoffrey.close@morganstanley.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Geoffrey Close <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Geoffrey Close
5 Hollow Brook Rd
Califon, NJ 07830-3104
geoffrey.close@morganstanley.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:46 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Doane <carol.doane@pobox.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Carol Doane <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:
Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of my wishes, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Thank you in advance for your timely advocacy for our oceans.

Very respectfully,
/s/Carol E. Doane

Sincerely.

Carol Doane
14 Buttonwood Rd
Voorhees, NJ 08043-2024
carol.doane@pobox.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:46 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Bishop <riverside861@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Carol Bishop <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carol Bishop
861 Lichtenthal St
Delran, NJ 08075-1411
riverside861@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:46 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia Sziber <szibird@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Patricia Sziber <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species. There is no alternative to this vital resource.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia Sziber
19 Wildwood Way
Titusville, NJ 08560-1815
szibird@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:46 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: David Wiley <the_kenosha_kid@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, David Wiley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

David Wiley
511 S 49th St # 1
Philadelphia, PA 19143-2001
the_kenosha_kid@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:46 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia Hernandez <pfh2414@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Patricia Hernandez <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia Hernandez
200 Hampton St
Cranford, NJ 07016-1845
pfh2414@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:47 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: William Cuff <wmcuff@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, William Cuff <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

William Cuff
45 2nd St
Keyport, NJ 07735-1861
wmcuff@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:47 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Donna Wilson <dmentowilson@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Donna Wilson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Donna Wilson
141 Oxford Pl
Williamstown, NJ 08094-1526
dmentowilson@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:47 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ken Burkhardt <ken_burkhardt@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Ken Burkhardt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ken Burkhardt
PO Box 420
Quakertown, NJ 08868-0420
ken_burkhardt@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:47 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: tom jarozynski <jarozynski@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, tom jarozynski <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

tom jarozynski
149 Ramblewood Pkwy
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-2324
jarozynski@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:47 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: William Hall <williamrhall@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, William Hall <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

William Hall
113 Chestnut Dr
Wayne, NJ 07470-5639
williamrhall@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:47 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Fysz <josepjoan@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Joseph Fysz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Fysz
251 Clay St
Trenton, NJ 08611-1715
josepjoan@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:48 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bernadette Darley <bdarley59@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Bernadette Darley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bernadette Darley
102 E Grand Ave
Montvale, NJ 07645-2405
bdarley59@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:48 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Russell <josephdrussell84@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Joseph Russell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Russell
671 Princeton Ave
Collingswood, NJ 08108-1518
josephdrussell84@gmail.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:48 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Timothy Hand <timothy.hand@aecom.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Timothy Hand <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Timothy Hand
176 Voorhees Corner Rd
Flemington, NJ 08822-3352
timothy.hand@aecom.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:48 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lorraine Marozzi <lmarozzi@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Lorraine Marozzi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lorraine Marozzi
100 Wistar Ave
Marmora, NJ 08223-1506
lmarozzi@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:48 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Daniel Johnson <dajjorg@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Daniel Johnson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Daniel Johnson
54 Nedsland Ave
Titusville, NJ 08560-1714
dajjorg@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:48 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Laura Kavanagh <lbrkav@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Laura Kavanagh <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Laura Kavanagh
210 Swimming River Rd
Colts Neck, NJ 07722-1528
lbrkav@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:49 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Matt Williams <matt_williams_5@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Matt Williams <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Matt Williams
750 Holly Ln
Westampton, NJ 08060-2367
matt_williams_5@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:49 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ron North <northrj@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Ron North <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ron North
116 E 2nd St
Moorestown, NJ 08057-2933
northrj@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:49 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ray Lynch <terray46@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Ray Lynch <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ray Lynch
56 Lakeview Ave
Watchung, NJ 07069-5929
terray46@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:49 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joan Mokray <jpmokray@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Joan Mokray <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joan Mokray
718 High Mountain Rd
Franklin Lakes, NJ 07417-2911
jpmokray@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:49 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Claire Wheeler <dolmaker@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Claire Wheeler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Claire Wheeler
274 E Main St
Oceanport, NJ 07757-1149
dolmaker@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:50 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Phyllis Key <pkeyhiker@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Phyllis Key <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Phyllis Key
401 Dercole Ct Apt 227
Norwood, NJ 07648-1566
pkeyhiker@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:50 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Kecskes <1roke@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Robert Kecskes <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Kecskes
354 Pennington Rocky Hill Rd
Pennington, NJ 08534-2131
1roke@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:50 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: maureen levier <mlgma08@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, maureen levier <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

maureen levier
218 Neptune Ave
Beachwood, NJ 08722-3922
mlgma08@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:50 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Matin <bmatin64@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Ann Matin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Matin
503 South Chestnut Street
NJ 07090
bmatin64@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:50 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Catherine Hunt <cchunt205@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Catherine Hunt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Catherine Hunt
121p Lowell Ln
Monroe Twp, NJ 08831-5607
cchunt205@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:50 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rosemarie Ceaser <rheaceaser@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Rosemarie Ceaser <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rosemarie Ceaser
223 Merselis Ave
Clifton, NJ 07011-1754
rheaceaser@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:50 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Fozia Kauser <fozia.kkauser@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Fozia Kauser <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Fozia Kauser
72 Oakwood Vlg
Flanders, NJ 07836-8954
fozia.kkauser@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:51 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Rosta <joseph_rosta@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Joseph Rosta <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Rosta
382 3rd St.
NY 112152865
joseph_rosta@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:51 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathy Lopes <katlopes@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Kathy Lopes <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathy Lopes
163 Reservoir Dr
Boonton, NJ 07005-2058
katlopes@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:51 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ray Go Wuertz <rraybo87@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Ray Go Wuertz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

It's a plan... we should all agree to balance resource needs and resource conservation. The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ray Go Wuertz
10 Sunset Ct
Dayton, NJ 08810-1622
rraybo87@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:51 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Ferrara <annf618@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Ann Ferrara <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Ferrara
72 Brick Rd
Cherry Hill, NJ 08003-1930
annf618@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:51 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: June Vester <bestvester@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, June Vester <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

June Vester
216 Pleasant Valley Rd
Titusville, NJ 08560-2105
bestvester@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:51 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Helena Bauernschmitt <hbauernschmitt@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Helena Bauernschmitt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean. Thank you.

Sincerely.

Helena Bauernschmitt
116 1000 Oaks Dr
Atlantic Highlands, NJ 07716-2445 hbauernschmitt@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:51 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Todd <kirpt@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Karen Todd <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Todd
63 Clinton St
Lambertville, NJ 08530-1901
kirpt@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:52 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eric Clase <eric_clase@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Eric Clase <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eric Clase
4 Sloane Ct
East Windsor, NJ 08520-2988
eric_clase@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:52 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "P.C. Rolston" <patrolston@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, P.C. Rolston <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

P.C. Rolston
PO Box 120
Mount Tabor, NJ 07878-0120
patrolston@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:52 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Michael Reingold <mreingold@ymail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Michael Reingold <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Michael Reingold
101 Brookwood Dr
Mahwah, NJ 07430-1575
mreingold@ymail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:52 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robin Stevens <rockinrobin402@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Robin Stevens <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robin Stevens
12 Daniel Pl
Elmer, NJ 08318-4443
rockinrobin402@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:52 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barbara Hoerner <barbh999@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Barbara Hoerner <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barbara Hoerner
980 Byron Ave
Elizabeth, NJ 07208-1050
barbh999@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:53 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marvin Feil <mfeil@writeme.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Marvin Feil <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marvin Feil
69-75 Sparta Ave
Newton, NJ 07860-2425
mfeil@writeme.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:53 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Paul Riley <rileypw@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Paul Riley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Paul Riley
64 Glenside Trl
Sparta, NJ 07871-1244
rileypw@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:53 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jan Bishop <j2bishop@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Jan Bishop <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jan Bishop
1552 River Rd
Titusville, NJ 08560-1809
j2bishop@aol.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:53 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Roedell <pewter3@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Elizabeth Roedell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Roedell
42 E Countryside Dr
Princeton, NJ 08540-9407
pewter3@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cheryl Drach <beebop7092@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Cheryl Drach <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cheryl Drach
266 Morris Ave
Blackwood, NJ 08012-2931
beebop7092@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: George Bourlotos <mcgb50@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, George Bourlotos <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

George Bourlotos
2315 Gates Ct
Morris Plains, NJ 07950-3435
mcgb50@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary Lutton <mklutton1@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Mary Lutton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary Lutton
31 East Dr
Toms River, NJ 08753-6874
mklutton1@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gunta Alexander <guntale@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Gunta Alexander <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gunta Alexander
199 Midland Ave
Glen Ridge, NJ 07028-2133
guntale@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marsi Meli <marsi2865@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Marsi Meli <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marsi Meli
132 Paine St
Riverside, NJ 08075-3811
marsi2865@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Arlene Aughey <hywelda@inbox.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Arlene Aughey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Arlene Aughey
137 Lincoln Ave
Saddle Brook, NJ 07663-5208
hywelda@inbox.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Diane Pastore <dpastore19@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Diane Pastore <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Diane Pastore
180 Old Cranbury Rd
East Windsor, NJ 08512-3021
dpastore19@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Alison Cucco <alisoncuc@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Alison Cucco <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Alison Cucco
123 River st
NJ 07302
alisoncuc@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: April Schwartz <aschwartz@ymail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, April Schwartz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

April Schwartz
1008 Murray Ave
Cherry Hill, NJ 08002-3237
aschwartz@ymail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Page Valgora <chinacatsun@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Page Valgora <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Page Valgora
144 Ardmore Ave
Haddonfield, NJ 08033-1428
chinacatsun@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Emily Johnson <ejohnson@guggenheim.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Emily Johnson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Emily Johnson
1710 Union Street
NY 11213
ejohnson@guggenheim.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Gammon <rgammon@umd.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Robert Gammon <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Gammon
4107 Clagett Rd
University Park, MD 20782-1136
rgammon@umd.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joy Stocke <stockey@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Joy Stocke <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joy Stocke
102 Sandy Ridge Mount Airy Rd
Stockton, NJ 08559-2009
stockey@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Shirley Kappa <skappa@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Shirley Kappa <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Shirley Kappa
42 Grand Banks Cir
Marlton, NJ 08053-4266
skappa@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kenneth Grosso <kennygrosso@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Kenneth Grosso <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kenneth Grosso
38 James St
Montclair, NJ 07042-2914
kennygrosso@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Louis Styers <wstyers@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Louis Styers <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Louis Styers
27 Dutchess Ct
Southampton, NJ 08088-1079
wstyers@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cathy Fortenbaugh <pjncath@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Cathy Fortenbaugh <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cathy Fortenbaugh
11 Wilfred Ave
Titusville, NJ 08560-1612
pjncath@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Melissa Gonzalez <mgnzalez@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Melissa Gonzalez <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Melissa Gonzalez
216 Lincoln Ave
Union, NJ 07083-8226
mgnzalez@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karin Vargas <karinv26@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Karin Vargas <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karin Vargas
150 Lenox Ave
Maywood, NJ 07607-1117
karinv26@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Daniel Kurz <dk_nj@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Daniel Kurz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Daniel Kurz
8b Rutland Ln
Monroe, NJ 08831-6682
dk_nj@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Abbie Lathrop-Savad <inthepictureframe@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Abbie Lathrop-Savad <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Abbie Lathrop-Savad
318 A St
Middlesex, NJ 08846-1003
inthepictureframe@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Wheeler <john.wheeler@lmco.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, John Wheeler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Wheeler
1 Crestview Dr
Ocean View, NJ 08230-1703
john.wheeler@lmco.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Caren Herzhauser <ccherzhauser@embarqmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Caren Herzhauser <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Caren Herzhauser
7 Meadow Run Way
Flemington, NJ 08822-1911
ccherzhauser@embarqmail.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Monica Jelonnek <jelmo456@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Monica Jelonnek <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Monica Jelonnek
112 Thompson Ave
Dover, NJ 07801-4530
jelmo456@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: WJ Van Bel <wj.vanbel@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, WJ Van Bel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

WJ Van Bel
115 Hoover Dr
Brick, NJ 08724-2711
wj.vanbel@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Renate Strub <renatestrub@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Renate Strub <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Renate Strub
3 Decker Ct
Mahwah, NJ 07430-2810
renatestrub@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Liz Piercey <mingsmomma@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Liz Piercey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Liz Piercey
2211 Broadway
New York, NY 10024-6263
mingsmomma@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jennifer Shenkman <jsshenkman@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Jennifer Shenkman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jennifer Shenkman
38 Barney Rd
Towaco, NJ 07082-1352
jsshenkman@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jennifer Barron <jblaughs2@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Jennifer Barron <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jennifer Barron
17 Godfrey Dr
Hamilton, NJ 08610-1105
jblaughs2@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Fisher <acf0903@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Ann Fisher <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Fisher
9 Tysley St
Basking Ridge, NJ 07920-1626
acf0903@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John W Hauch <johnhauch@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, John W Hauch <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John W Hauch
203 Heights Dr
Haledon, NJ 07508-1025
johnhauch@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Renee Stein <reeennneee@nyc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Renee Stein <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Renee Stein
200 E 39th St Apt 4d
New York, NY 10016-2862
reeennneee@nyc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: gerri ballwanz <ballwanz@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, gerri ballwanz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

gerri ballwanz
208 Governors Rd
Lakewood, NJ 08701-1463
ballwanz@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tracey Katsouros <traceycsmallwood@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:43 PM, Tracey Katsouros <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tracey Katsouros
1322 Harwich Dr
Waldorf, MD 20601-3322
traceycsmallwood@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kimberly Shaub <4purplewoman@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Kimberly Shaub <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kimberly Shaub
566 Cleardale Ave
Ewing, NJ 08618-2541
4purplewoman@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judy Walters <jwalters333@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Judy Walters <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Judy Walters
19 Colson Ln
Mullica Hill, NJ 08062-1505
jwalters333@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joan Ciccarone <jpckoala@roadrunner.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Joan Ciccarone <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joan Ciccarone
PO Box 47
, 415 Riddle Road
Cossayuna, NY 12823-0047
jpckoala@roadrunner.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Christine Walden <christinewalden@att.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Christine Walden <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Christine Walden
14 Landings Dr
Marlton, NJ 08053-2832
christinewalden@att.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Weisenfeld <linweisenfeld@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Linda Weisenfeld <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Weisenfeld
25 Brandon Ln
Sewell, NJ 08080-2183
linweisenfeld@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Miriam Harlan <miriamharlan@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Miriam Harlan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Miriam Harlan
1929 Spruce St
Philadelphia, PA 19103-5719
miriamharlan@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Vilma Pineda <vilmapineda@rocketmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Vilma Pineda <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Vilma Pineda
416 53rd St
West New York, NJ 07093-2030
vilmapineda@rocketmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Janet Bender <tjbender@juno.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Janet Bender <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Janet Bender
86 Cherry Tree Farm Rd
Middletown, NJ 07748-1644
tjbender@juno.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Thalia Quinonez <quinonezthalia@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Thalia Quinonez <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Thalia Quinonez
4 Yeoman Rd
Newburgh, NY 12550-2646
quinonezthalia@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eddie Rivera <ierivera896@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Eddie Rivera <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eddie Rivera
57 Willowbrook Way
Eastampton, NJ 08060-4338
ierivera896@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: George Louis Mayer <georgemayer1@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, George Louis Mayer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

George Louis Mayer
150 W End Ave Apt 30p
New York, NY 10023-5744
georgemayer1@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Janet Blake <janet@fnainsurance.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Janet Blake <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Janet Blake
15912 86th St
Howard Beach, NY 11414-3028
janet@fnainsurance.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dorian Charles <dcha549494@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Dorian Charles <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dorian Charles
325 Avenel St
Avenel, NJ 07001-1534
dcha549494@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Charles Bell <ctb302@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Charles Bell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Charles Bell
4 Paulmier Rd
Stockton, NJ 08559-1828
ctb302@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jonathan Goodwin <jviper6000@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Jonathan Goodwin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jonathan Goodwin
804 Liberty Ln
Blackwood, NJ 08012-1221
jviper6000@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Rivielle <bcrivielle@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Carol Rivielle <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carol Rivielle
64 Larkin Cir
West Orange, NJ 07052-1125
bcrivielle@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Anthony Menzel <amenzel8@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Anthony Menzel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Anthony Menzel
122 Radtke Rd
Randolph, NJ 07869-3860
amenzel8@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joanne Rist <jristsurfs@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Joanne Rist <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joanne Rist
208 S Lakeshore Dr
Manahawkin, NJ 08050-2920
jristsurfs@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: David Kaplan <kaplan.davidp@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, David Kaplan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

David Kaplan
41 Mackay Dr
Tenafly, NJ 07670-2419
kaplan.davidp@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nan Rushton <nrushton@live.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Nan Rushton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nan Rushton
26 Dowling Ave
Audubon, NJ 08106-1434
nrushton@live.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: jen Valentine <faboo1028@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, jen Valentine <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

jen Valentine
313 1st Ave
Massapequa Park, NY 11762-1850
faboo1028@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marc Rubin <marcrubin1@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Marc Rubin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marc Rubin
77 Mark Twain Dr
Hamilton Square, NJ 08690-2152
marcrubin1@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Belinda Caraballo <caraballo512@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Belinda Caraballo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Belinda Caraballo
1120 Sunnyview Oval
Keasbey, NJ 08832-1048
caraballo512@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia deForest <boomfive1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:00 PM, Patricia deForest <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia deForest
8 Bayberry Dr
Waretown, NJ 08758-1513
boomfive1@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Sherman <potter66@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Karen Sherman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Sherman
1054 E 14th St
Brooklyn, NY 11230-4302
potter66@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Blubaugh <blubaughsusan@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Susan Blubaugh <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Blubaugh
35 Little York Mount Pleasant Rd
Milford, NJ 08848-2155
blubaughsusan@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Titilola Opawumi <opawumit@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Titilola Opawumi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Titilola Opawumi
68 5th St
South Orange, NJ 07079-1847
opawumit@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sarah Shannon <sarahvshannon@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Sarah Shannon <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sarah Shannon
312 Rileyville Rd
Ringoes, NJ 08551-1501
sarahvshannon@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda DeFelice <lindad7999@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Linda DeFelice <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda DeFelice
366 Cedar Lake Rd
Newfield, NJ 08344-5804
lindad7999@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cori Bishop <animeluvr666@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Cori Bishop <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cori Bishop
617 S County Blvd
Egg Harbor City, NJ 08215-3025
animeluvr666@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: diane geary <hardworkinmom@mail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, diane geary <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

diane geary
6 Knotty Oak Dr
Eastampton, NJ 08060-2520
hardworkinmom@mail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carolyn Barrett <carolynbarrett@barretttech.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Carolyn Barrett <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carolyn Barrett
1501 Parkside Ave Apt 1l
Ewing, NJ 08638-2613
carolynbarrett@barretttech.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Scanlon <karen@intuitnutrition.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Karen Scanlon <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Scanlon
107 Helen St
Syracuse, NY 13203-1241
karen@intuitnutrition.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Richard DeWitt <richdewittsr@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Richard DeWitt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Richard DeWitt
197 Huntington Dr
Southampton, NJ 08088-1117
richdewittsr@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Brant Switzler <switzler@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Brant Switzler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Brant Switzler
PO Box 32
Stockton, NJ 08559-0032
switzler@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robin Perry <rperry1112@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Robin Perry <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robin Perry
222 E 89th St
New York, NY 10128-4309
rperry1112@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kate Gibbons <kate3cat@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Kate Gibbons <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kate Gibbons
32 N 12th St
Del Haven, NJ 08251-3703
kate3cat@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ifill Ifill <lindsayifill@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Ifill Ifill <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ifill Ifill
633 Stokes Ave
Collingswood, NJ 08108-3040
lindsayifill@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathleen J Welsh <kathyjwelsh@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Kathleen J Welsh <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathleen J Welsh
160a Kalmia Plz
Monroe Township, NJ 08831-5060
kathyjwelsh@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Panagiota Skandali <skandali@gmx.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Panagiota Skandali <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Panagiota Skandali
291 Prospect Ave
Princeton, NJ 08540-5334
skandali@gmx.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Janice Haggerty <janicephaggerty@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Janice Haggerty <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Janice Haggerty
128 Fairview Dr
Bedminster, NJ 07921-2527
janicephaggerty@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Stephanie Seymour <stephanieseymour66@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Stephanie Seymour <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Stephanie Seymour
41 Cheshire Ln
Ringwood, NJ 07456-2712
stephanieseymour66@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: katherine barnhart <kate_barnhart@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, katherine barnhart <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

katherine barnhart
9701 Barwell Ter
Brooklyn, NY 11209-7804
kate_barnhart@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jon Padden <jfp457@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Jon Padden <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jon Padden
7 Cherry Blossom Ct
North Potomac, MD 20878-4900
jfp457@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Richard Herbst <rich_pamh@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Richard Herbst <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Richard Herbst
69 Twin Rivers Dr N
East Windsor, NJ 08520-5538
rich_pamh@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Desmond McRory <djm_54@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Desmond McRory <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Desmond McRory
130 Upper Creek Rd
Stockton, NJ 08559-1210
djm_54@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert More <robertcmore@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Robert More <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert More
PO Box 467
Oldwick, NJ 08858-0467
robertcmore@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Casale <rjc908@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Robert Casale <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Casale
49 Hull Rd
Bernardsville, NJ 07924-2021
rjc908@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sarah Dougan <saldougan@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Sarah Dougan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sarah Dougan
25 McCatharn Rd
Lebanon, NJ 08833-4103
saldougan@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Louise Kesty <lkesty@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Louise Kesty <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Louise Kesty
1 N Lakeside Dr W
Medford, NJ 08055-9205
lkesty@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ellen Mc Connell <cats4all@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Ellen Mc Connell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ellen Mc Connell
14 Winsor Ct
Sayreville, NJ 08872-1371
cats4all@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary Esther Fritz <jrfritz@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Mary Esther Fritz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary Esther Fritz
7 Crescent Hollow Dr
Sewell, NJ 08080-9654
jrfritz@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sue Velez <flimsysue@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Sue Velez <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sue Velez
911 Wills St
Delran, NJ 08075-1425
flimsysue@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Brad Heisler <mrbradheisler@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:30 PM, Brad Heisler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Brad Heisler
599 Winterberry Blvd
Jackson, NJ 08527-4911
mrbradheisler@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judith Smith <capejas@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Judith Smith <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

I am ecstatic that the RPB will work to complete the first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

Sincerely.

Judith Smith
17 Old Forge Dr
Warren, NJ 07059-5547
capejas@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: William O'Hearn <williamohearn@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, William O'Hearn <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

William O'Hearn
4 Wanaque Ter
Ringwood, NJ 07456-2912
williamohearn@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nancy Siebert <nancyjsiebert@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Nancy Siebert <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nancy Siebert
805 Lawrence Ave
Toms River, NJ 08757-1450
nancyjsiebert@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joshua Sandler <joshs997@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:13 PM, Joshua Sandler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joshua Sandler
33 Musiker Ave
Randolph, NJ 07869-4622
joshs997@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Fogarty <kbierbaum12@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Karen Fogarty <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Fogarty
12 Bayberry Rd
Ewing, NJ 08618-1002
kbierbaum12@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Glaser <linda1265@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Linda Glaser <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Glaser
2231 Hillcrest Ave
Pennsauken, NJ 08110-1710
linda1265@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kevin Whitney <kwhitney@acua.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Kevin Whitney <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kevin Whitney
Lakeshore Drive
Hammonton, NJ 08037
kwhitney@acua.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Brotherton <jbro29@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, John Brotherton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Brotherton
249 E Crescent Ave
Mahwah, NJ 07430-1569
jbro29@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Friend Friend <brians7785@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Friend Friend <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Friend Friend
101a Rivervale Ct
Scotch Plains, NJ 07076-3009
brians7785@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Clark <susan.g.clark@embarqmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Susan Clark <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Clark
168 W Valley Brook Rd
Califon, NJ 07830-3526
susan.g.clark@embarqmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Douglas Schneller <djschneller@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Douglas Schneller <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Douglas Schneller
321 N Union Ave
Cranford, NJ 07016-2414
djschneller@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Catherine Rymsza <cathyr0612@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Catherine Rymsza <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Catherine Rymsza
212 Grant Ave
Bellmawr, NJ 08031-1526
cathyr0612@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "F. P. Aldhizer" <vonurica@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, F. P. Aldhizer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

F. P. Aldhizer
PO Box 642
Verona, VA 24482-0642
vonurica@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. and Christine E. Schmutz" <ces1333@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. and Christine E. Schmutz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. and Christine E. Schmutz
307 Powerville Rd
Boonton Township, NJ 07005-9151
ces1333@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ashley Rosen <super.ashley@ymail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Ashley Rosen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ashley Rosen
N/A N/A, NJ 07090-3458
super.ashley@ymail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Miryam Fonken <mfonken@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Miryam Fonken <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Miryam Fonken
429 Falmouth Ave
Elmwood Park, NJ 07407-3306
mfonken@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Alan C. Stoddart" <astoddart@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Alan C. Stoddart <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Alan C. Stoddart
2254 E 59th Pl
Brooklyn, NY 11234-6402
astoddart@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: JOYCE SHIFFRIN <jshiffrin200111213@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, JOYCE SHIFFRIN <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

JOYCE SHIFFRIN
576 Eastern Pkwy Apt 3h
Brooklyn, NY 11225-1609
jshiffrin200111213@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Geoffrey Browne <gbrowne123@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Geoffrey Browne <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Geoffrey Browne
1109 Sheridan St
New Milford, NJ 07646-2419
gbrowne123@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Amy Esposito <amy133@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Amy Esposito <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Amy Esposito
20 Sven Dr
Robbinsville, NJ 08691-3081
amy133@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Michael Zuckerman <mzuckerm@upenn.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:13 PM, Michael Zuckerman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Michael Zuckerman
15 Richey Pl
Trenton, NJ 08618-5603
mzuckerm@upenn.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lorraine Klein <cyberlor@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Lorraine Klein <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lorraine Klein
2151 1st Ave
Merrick, NY 11566-2439
cyberlor@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joan White <joandw46@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Joan White <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joan White
201 Terrace Dr
Chatham, NJ 07928-5006
joandw46@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Brigandi <jbelectric64@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Joseph Brigandi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Brigandi
42 Garden Ave
Blackwood, NJ 08012-4833
jbelectric64@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Emily Hopkins <elhopkins97@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Emily Hopkins <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Emily Hopkins
312 Fawnwood Dr
Milford, NJ 08848-1204
elhopkins97@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:42 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Madeleine Lee <leemad88@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Madeleine Lee <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Madeleine Lee
59 Michael Dr
Westfield, NJ 07090-1135
leemad88@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:42 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kurt Schwarz <krschwa1@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Kurt Schwarz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species, as well as ocean going birds such as storm petrels and shearwaters.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kurt Schwarz
9045 Dunloggin Ct
Ellicott City, MD 21042-5204
krschwa1@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:42 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kevin Kriescher <kjkriescher@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Kevin Kriescher <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kevin Kriescher
4 E 32nd St
Baltimore, MD 21218-3345
kjkriescher@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:42 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lluís Martín <Katralba@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Lluís Martín <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lluís Martín
Unió, 90
Mataró, None 08302
Katralba@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:42 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Maria Adolf <malimar41@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Maria Adolf <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Maria Adolf
1306 Hancock Dr Apt 7
Barrington, NJ 08007-1634
malimar41@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:42 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: David Wright <rushmoreyankee72@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, David Wright <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

David Wright
202 W Park Ave
Oaklyn, NJ 08107-2428
rushmoreyankee72@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:42 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Maryann Jasion <maryjasion@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Maryann Jasion <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Maryann Jasion
148 Oak Pines Blvd
Pemberton, NJ 08068-1932
maryjasion@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lynn Ebeling <lynnebeling@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Lynn Ebeling <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lynn Ebeling
140 Van Dyke Rd
Hopewell, NJ 08525-1004
lynnebeling@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Denise Gindhart <dbgindhart@mdwcg.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Denise Gindhart <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Denise Gindhart
236 Meyner Dr
Bellmawr, NJ 08031-2058
dbgindhart@mdwcg.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Edgar Diaz <gdiazny@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Edgar Diaz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Edgar Diaz
21 Convent Ave
New York, NY 10027-2610
gdiazny@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dave Atkinson <renmandave@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Dave Atkinson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dave Atkinson
8 Deville Ct
Newark, DE 19711-5906
renmandave@hotmail.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Lefkowitz <lefkowir@mskcc.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Robert Lefkowitz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Lefkowitz
32 Eagle Rdg
Montvale, NJ 07645-1348
lefkowir@mskcc.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Frank Ferguson <tnofhf@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Frank Ferguson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Frank Ferguson
10d Brookline Ct
Princeton, NJ 08540-1744
tnofhf@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sandra Kisieleski <sandyk1016@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Sandra Kisieleski <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sandra Kisieleski
63 Stern Ave
NJ 07734
sandyk1016@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:44 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Chris Casey
4414 Ridgewood Court
Dumfries, VA 22025
chris@casey.com
(703) 915-5698

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:50 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members,

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Patrick Lewsen
21834 Granite Mountain Terrace
Ashburn, VA 20147
plewsen@msn.com
(703) 597-4172

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Julie Aronson <juleseven@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Julie Aronson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Julie Aronson
14 State Park Rd
Chester, NJ 07930-3254
juleseven@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Nicole Cicerale
493 Ryders Lane
East Brunswick, NJ 08816
ncicerale@hotmail.com
(732) 804-8622

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Karen Dawes
114 Sweet Shrub Lane
Vinton, VA 24179
wild_kard@verizon.net
(540) 890-0903

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Coleen Corbett
425 West Broadway
Long Beach, NY 11561
col.575@verizon.net
(516) 897-4262

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Carol Collins
1935 Nault Road
Dover, DE 19904
ccollins54@msn.com
(302) 678-1644

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:52 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Hello, Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members,

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! I applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like me in shaping this plan over the last three years.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean that is specific and significantly changes how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Hulse
4 Lightship Dr
Rehoboth Beach, DE 19971
disneyjohn@verizon.net
(302) 645-4832

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: William Rolls <wrolls@charter.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, William Rolls <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

William Rolls
90 Sullivan Farm
New Milford, CT 06776-4568
wrolls@charter.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Catherine Cutlip <ccutlip@brookdalecc.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Catherine Cutlip <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Catherine Cutlip
765 Newman Springs Rd
Lincroft, NJ 07738-1543
ccutlip@brookdalecc.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Chaparro <sonnysummer044@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Elizabeth Chaparro <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Chaparro
35 Mantua Rd
Mount Royal, NJ 08061-1006
sonnysummer044@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:52 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

P Scoville
PO Box 153, Hewitt, NJ
Hewitt, NJ 07421
michael799@optonline.net
(000) 000-0000

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nancy McLelland <nmcvan56@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Nancy McLelland <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nancy McLelland
89 Sandra Rd
Voorhees, NJ 08043-2046
nmcvan56@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Donna Wharton <jnd227@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Donna Wharton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Donna Wharton
103 Yorktown Rd
Swedesboro, NJ 08085-4203
jnd227@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lori Zeigler <doll369@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Lori Zeigler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lori Zeigler
162 High St
Woodbury, NJ 08096-2304
doll369@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Keith Havens <kovs27@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Keith Havens <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Keith Havens
605 Butler Ave
Point Pleasant Boro, NJ 08742-2818
kovs27@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dan Whiteley <dtreman@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Dan Whiteley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dan Whiteley
11 Erick Ct
Chester, NJ 07930-2826
dtreman@hotmail.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Meredith Kates <mjkates@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Meredith Kates <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Meredith Kates
140 Sebastian Ct
Hillsdale, NJ 07642-2313
mjkates@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Mason <alhmason@rocketmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:30 PM, Ann Mason <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Mason
8366 Harrowgate Dr
Pennsauken, NJ 08109-3632
alhmason@rocketmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Donnette Stewart <donnettebs@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Donnette Stewart <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Donnette Stewart
554 Ryders Ln
East Brunswick, NJ 08816-3538
donnettebs@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Robby Roberts
1908 Forest Drive
Annapolis, MD 21401
pureboardshopmd@gmail.com
4102677669

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Todd Slater <akatodd@me.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Todd Slater <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Todd Slater
13 Miller St
Caldwell, NJ 07006-4915
akatodd@me.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: tara wheeler <tara@thebaldwinlawfirm.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, tara wheeler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean. We need to preserve this world for future generations of all. what we do on one side of the country will eventually come back to us. We need to take care of as much as we can. This is God's world and we are to take care of it for all. Happy Summer and thank you for all you do. Life, of all kinds, including ours, depend on it! God Bless All . . .

Sincerely.

tara wheeler
2915 Hunter Mill Rd
Oakton, VA 22124-1716
tara@thebaldwinlawfirm.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tiffany Maresca <tiffany.maresca@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Tiffany Maresca <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tiffany Maresca
244 Collignon Way
River Vale, NJ 07675-6366
tiffany.maresca@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rell Shipman <tigerbone20@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Rell Shipman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rell Shipman
200 Greenland Ave
Ewing, NJ 08638-3630
tigerbone20@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Debra Faiello <debra.faiello@wakefern.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Debra Faiello <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Debra Faiello
160 Miller Park Rd
Milford, NJ 08848-1962
debra.faiello@wakefern.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jessica Miller <jessmt66@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Jessica Miller <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jessica Miller
48 School Ave
Chatham, NJ 07928-1658
jessmt66@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary W Pearson <marywpearson@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Mary W Pearson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary W Pearson
59 Cherry Tree Farm Rd
Middletown, NJ 07748-2203
marywpearson@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Teresa Oswald <teresaoswald250@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Teresa Oswald <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Teresa Oswald
250 E 2nd St
Florence, NJ 08518-1404
teresaoswald250@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jewell Gonzalez <jgnlz87@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Jewell Gonzalez <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jewell Gonzalez
827 Jackson Ave
Elizabeth, NJ 07201-1605
jgnlz87@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Fielek
10 Tudor Court
Brick, NJ 08723
jetstar@luckymail.com
(732) 539-3194

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia Kortjohn <patkort@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Patricia Kortjohn <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely.

Patricia Kortjohn
376 Oakwood Dr
Wyckoff, NJ 07481-1920
patkort@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dawne White <dh.white@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Dawne White <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dawne White
315 Veterans Blvd
Bayville, NJ 08721-3228
dh.white@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Helene Heather <hfilaheather@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Helene Heather <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Helene Heather
2685 Main St
Lawrenceville, NJ 08648-1036
hfilaheather@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:56 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Brian Kahan
2002 medical parkway
Annapolis, MD 21401
bkahan@thekahancenter.com
(410) 571-9000

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ernst Brehm <ebrehm@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Ernst Brehm <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ernst Brehm
61 Knolls Rd
Bloomingdale, NJ 07403-1513
ebrehm@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Peter Osborn <pgosborn@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Peter Osborn <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Peter Osborn
938 Summit Ave
Westfield, NJ 07090-2600
pgosborn@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "E. Ronald Goldfuss" <rgoldfuss@sailon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, E. Ronald Goldfuss <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

E. Ronald Goldfuss
21 Nelson Ridge Rd
Princeton, NJ 08540-7426
rgoldfuss@sailon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Theresa Johnson <terrymjohnson@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Theresa Johnson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Theresa Johnson
225 W 83rd St
New York, NY 10024-4952
terrymjohnson@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Janis Howard <janisbh@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Janis Howard <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Janis Howard
709 Society Hill Blvd
Cherry Hill, NJ 08003-2422
janisbh@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary Buda <marybuda@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Mary Buda <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary Buda
8 Patterson Dr
Oak Ridge, NJ 07438-9355
marybuda@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:57 PM
Subject: Re: The Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body must include all interested stakeholders to gain consensus and develop an effective M...
To: Brian Sayre <bsayre@dewberry.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Brian Sayre <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Brian Sayre
600 Parsippany Rd
Parsippany, NJ 07054-3715
bsayre@dewberry.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sarah Sarraiocco <slsarraiocco@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Sarah Sarraiocco <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sarah Sarraiocco
18 Pennbrook Dr
Haddonfield, NJ 08033-3509
slsarraiocco@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ronald Sverdlove <mathmus@alumni.princeton.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Ronald Sverdlove <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ronald Sverdlove
52 Hartley Ave
Princeton, NJ 08540-7210
mathmus@alumni.princeton.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Collins <ccollins54@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Carol Collins <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carol Collins
1935 Nault Rd
Dover, DE 19904-5823
ccollins54@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jona J <jtkz7182@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Jona J <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jona J
215 Hillside Rd
Elizabeth, NJ 07208-1415
jtkz7182@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lorraine Brabham <tweety336@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Lorraine Brabham <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lorraine Brabham
1313 Grand St Apt 511
Hoboken, NJ 07030-2253
tweety336@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dorann Weber <dorann_weber@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Dorann Weber <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dorann Weber
303 Orange Ave
Browns Mills, NJ 08015-2134
dorann_weber@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Findlay <fairwayproductions@att.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Robert Findlay <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Findlay
30 Ironia Rd
Flanders, NJ 07836-7108
fairwayproductions@att.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Benjamin <ladyofbenjamin@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Elizabeth Benjamin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Benjamin
2250 Fostertown Rd
Hainesport, NJ 08036-4845
ladyofbenjamin@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Brunhild Seeger-Dinovi <brunhild3@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Brunhild Seeger-Dinovi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Brunhild Seeger-Dinovi
1603 Blackburn Ct
Vineland, NJ 08361-6521
brunhild3@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eileen G Southgate <gwensouthgate@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Eileen G Southgate <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eileen G Southgate
958 Ridge Rd
Monmouth Jct, NJ 08852-3201
gwensouthgate@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Michael Zuckerman <mzuckerm@upenn.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Michael Zuckerman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Michael Zuckerman
3207 Winter St
Philadelphia, PA 19104-2720
mzuckerm@upenn.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Wendy Utberg <glutberg@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Wendy Utberg <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Wendy Utberg
230 Morris Tpke
Randolph, NJ 07869-3506
glutberg@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Caroline Binder <ms.c.binder@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Caroline Binder <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Caroline Binder
4972 Cloister Dr
Rockville, MD 20852-3373
ms.c.binder@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dorothea Couch <dorotheacouch@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Dorothea Couch <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dorothea Couch
210 Grant St
Mount Holly, NJ 08060-1313
dorotheacouch@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Denise Ruch <dkr2035@icloud.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Denise Ruch <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Denise Ruch
2035 Cedar Ln
Ocean View, NJ 08230-1141
dkr2035@icloud.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jean Arrieta <j_mega83@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Jean Arrieta <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jean Arrieta
160 Lenox Ave
Paterson, NJ 07502-1638
j_mega83@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Saetta <jsa2020@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Joseph Saetta <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Saetta
413 1st Ave
Bayport, NY 11705-1330
jsa2020@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marilyn Robeson <maparobe@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Marilyn Robeson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marilyn Robeson
100 Christopher Columbus Dr Apt 2713
Jersey City, NJ 07302-5565
maparobe@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lisa Reifschneider <lisareif@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Lisa Reifschneider <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lisa Reifschneider
1583 Reed Rd
Pennington, NJ 08534-5001
lisareif@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda O'Donnell <whs-admin@ttfabrics.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Linda O'Donnell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda O'Donnell
27 3rd Ave
Garwood, NJ 07027-1128
whs-admin@ttfabrics.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cecilia Severino <ccseverino@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Cecilia Severino <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cecilia Severino
152 Austin Ave
Old Bridge, NJ 08857-1136
ccseverino@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Anne Gilmore <gilmore363@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Anne Gilmore <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Anne Gilmore
363 Bryn Mawr Dr
Williamstown, NJ 08094-2760
gilmore363@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bonnie E Williams <bonn35@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Bonnie E Williams <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bonnie E Williams
305 W 28th St Apt 2h
New York, NY 10001-7921
bonn35@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ron Smith <n2nhc@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 12:00 PM, Ron Smith <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ron Smith
512 Connie Ave
Franklin Lakes, NJ 07417-1810
n2nhc@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Hardy <hardylk@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Linda Hardy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Hardy
1 Oxford Ct
Matawan, NJ 07747-9524
hardylk@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Katy Shoemaker <hkshoemaker@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Katy Shoemaker <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Katy Shoemaker
72 Welsh Rd
Lebanon, NJ 08833-4316
hkshoemaker@yahoo.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Luana Tiedemann <lntied@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Luana Tiedemann <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Luana Tiedemann
345 Werns Ave
Elmont, NY 11003-3014
lntied@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:01 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:47 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Tyler Sheldon
249 main st apt 6
Bridgewater, MA 02324
bleachfish1@gmail.com
(978) 502-7388

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:48 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

I appreciate your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like me in shaping the ocean planning process for the last three years.

I urge you to make the final plan specific enough to improve how our oceans are managed. To that end, please use all of the data now available to you to delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. This information will be invaluable for the siting of future projects like offshore wind farms.

We have a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Hope Carr
385 85th Street
Brooklyn, NY 11209
hopecarr@ix.netcom.com
(718) 748-2113

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:45 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Stephen Printz
12 Black Oak Mews
Newtown, PA 18940
scprintz1950@gmail.com
(215) 208-2065

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:48 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Michael Puzio
2622 Tremley Pt. Rd.
Linden, NJ 07036
mcpuzio@gmail.com
9084948448

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:49 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Seth Ayers
4616 Morgan Drive
Chevy Chase, MD 20815
seth.ayers@gmail.com
(301) 652-2715

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:49 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Bill Williams
1706 bay ave
Point Pleasant Beach, NJ 08742
bwilliams@pmenv.com
7329487485

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:44 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Suzanne Ito
1825 Foster Ave.
Brooklyn, NY 11230
suzanne.ito@gmail.com
(718) 577-1028

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:44 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Cristine Landicho
361 juniper cout
Herndon, VA 20170
cristine0530@gmail.com
(703) 437-0410

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: joe madero <actorjoemadero@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, joe madero <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

joe madero
27c Medford Rd
Whiting, NJ 08759-3844
actorjoemadero@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Seiler <ambitmentors@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Robert Seiler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Seiler
751 Sooy Place Rd
Vincentown, NJ 08088-6911
ambitmentors@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lori Spechler <lori.spechler@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:43 PM, Lori Spechler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lori Spechler
5 Colgate St
Closter, NJ 07624-1535
lori.spechler@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Peter M <mailpbee@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Peter M <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Peter M
PO Box 549
East Brunswick, NJ 08816-0549
mailpbee@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carl Pflug <singleguy054@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Carl Pflug <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carl Pflug
50 Beers St Apt 8z
Keyport, NJ 07735-1329
singleguy054@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Richard Kaye <kayerak@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Richard Kaye <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Richard Kaye
66 Coneflower Ln
West Windsor, NJ 08550-2409
kayerak@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Christina Lofton <loftonchristina@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Christina Lofton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Christina Lofton
65 Conifer Way
Sicklerville, NJ 08081-4637
loftonchristina@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: M Cecilia Correia <mceciliacorreia@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, M Cecilia Correia <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

M Cecilia Correia
1350 North Ave
Elizabeth, NJ 07208-2612
mceciliacorreia@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cynthia Percarpio <simbacatt@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Cynthia Percarpio <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cynthia Percarpio
47 Lloyd Ave
Stanhope, NJ 07874-2926
simbacatt@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Yesenia Ramirez <yesramirez@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Yesenia Ramirez <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Yesenia Ramirez
162 Golden Eagle Dr
Hammonton, NJ 08037-8418
yesramirez@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marylin Wechselblatt <marylinwechselblatt@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Marylin Wechselblatt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marylin Wechselblatt
322 Richard Mine Rd
Wharton, NJ 07885-1835
marylinwechselblatt@yahoo.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Daley <bluehdmc@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, John Daley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Daley
1255 Valley Rd
Wayne, NJ 07470-7979
bluehdmc@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judith Pack <judipack@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Judith Pack <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Judith Pack
170 Hudson Ave
Red Bank, NJ 07701-2140
judipack@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Wanda Plucinski <wandatravels@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Wanda Plucinski <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Wanda Plucinski
1316 Wessex Pl
Princeton, NJ 08540-6399
wandatravels@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Charline Brock <charlyb@cybergal.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Charline Brock <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Charline Brock
PO Box 238
Mahwah, NJ 07430-0238
charlyb@cybergal.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Brian Morrell <bmorrell@citybloom.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Brian Morrell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Brian Morrell
PO Box 572
Stanhope, NJ 07874-0572
bmorrell@citybloom.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ellen Jamieson <ellenjay321@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Ellen Jamieson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ellen Jamieson
402 Hillside Ave
Leonia, NJ 07605-1107 ellenjay321@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: William Peters <krisar1212@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, William Peters <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

William Peters
17 Washington Ave
Waterford Works, NJ 08089-1558
krisar1212@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Donna O'Leary <olearydonna03@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Donna O'Leary <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Donna O'Leary
Village Drive
Basking Ridge, NJ 07920-1341
olearydonna03@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:05 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

kate sweeney
18 hiram square
New Brunswick, NJ 08901
kate.sweeney@ms.com
(732) 435-2248

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Walter Huresky
319 Sycamore Ave
Shrewsbury, NJ 07702
walt@navcongrp.com
9083099593

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Denise Lytle
11 Wisteria Dr., Apt. 3F
Woodbridge Township, NJ 08863
centauress6@live.com
(732) 910-8543

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:49 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Noel Fitchett
1708 Handcross Way
Virginia Beach, VA 23456
nfitchet@vbgov.com
(757) 536-8051

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lorraine Brabham <tweety336@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Lorraine Brabham <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lorraine Brabham
1313 Grand St Apt 511
Hoboken, NJ 07030-2253
tweety336@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barbara DiNovi <babadinovi@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Barbara DiNovi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barbara DiNovi
53 Brookside Ave
Demarest, NJ 07627-2005
babadinovi@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:49 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Noel Fitchett
1708 Handcross Way
Virginia Beach, VA 23456
nfitchet@vbgov.com
(757) 536-8051

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Daniel Piasecki
150 Wrights Road
Newtown, PA 18940
dhp5000@gmail.com
2154071909

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Helga Spector <helgaspector@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Helga Spector <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Helga Spector
28 Spring St
Somerset, NJ 08873-3331
helgaspector@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jeffrey Cateron <cateron2010@outlook.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Jeffrey Cateron <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jeffrey Cateron
830 Carteret Ave
Trenton, NJ 08618-5310
cateron2010@outlook.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kim Graceffo <kmiller521@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Kim Graceffo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kim Graceffo
31 Scenic Dr
Oak Ridge, NJ 07438-8823
kmiller521@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rebecca Rix <edarar@icloud.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Rebecca Rix <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rebecca Rix
35 Murray Pl
Princeton, NJ 08540-5205
edarar@icloud.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Jayne P. Bender" <jaynepb@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Jayne P. Bender <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jayne P. Bender
203 Nariticong Ave
Hopatcong, NJ 07843-1612
jaynepb@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:56 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Naomi Azuma
550 Grand Street, #3S
New York, NY 11211
nazuma@naomiazuma.com
(917) 865-8797

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Constance Caldwell <conncald@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Constance Caldwell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Constance Caldwell
414 Ellery Ct
Edgewater, NJ 07020-1606
conncald@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

I stand strong with Surfrider. Please protect oour oceans.Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Francis Kinney
60 Syosset Trail
Medford, NJ 08055
kinney83@comcast.net
(908) 770-8825

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bill Laznovsky <blazno@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Bill Laznovsky <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bill Laznovsky
110 Mandon Ct
Princeton, NJ 08540-9548
blazno@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Alan Harwick <alan@harwicklaw.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Alan Harwick <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Alan Harwick
53 Old Highway 28
Whitehouse Station, NJ 08889-3609
alan@harwicklaw.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Katherine Stinson <kitstinson@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Katherine Stinson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Katherine Stinson
96 Mountain Ave
Gillette, NJ 07933-1505
kitstinson@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Evans <cbe77@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Carol Evans <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carol Evans
73 Grove Ave
Maywood, NJ 07607-2009
cbe77@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bart Saloo <barttt15@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Bart Saloo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bart Saloo
1381 Kimberly Dr
Philadelphia, PA 19151-2834
barttt15@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jane McMahill <jmcmahill155@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Jane McMahill <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jane McMahill
155 Raymond Rd
Princeton, NJ 08540-9608
jmcmahill155@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lauren Townsend <ltownsend4@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Lauren Townsend <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lauren Townsend
308 Lareine Ave Apt A
Bradley Beach, NJ 07720-1337
ltownsend4@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Greg Krawczyk <gskrawczyk@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 AM, Greg Krawczyk <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Greg Krawczyk
8 Colonial Ave
Princeton Junction, NJ 08550-1657
gskrawczyk@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia Dougherty <ihop7rudie@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Patricia Dougherty <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia Dougherty
25 S Church Rd Unit 22
Maple Shade, NJ 08052-3031
ihop7rudie@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Melissa Zeyger <mzeyger@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Melissa Zeyger <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Melissa Zeyger
4819 Aberdeen Dr
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-5623
mzeyger@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Thank you for completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future. Please make sure that your final plan protects all the animals and plants that live in the ocean. By protecting them you are protecting us.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Jacobs
2203 S Bayshore Drive
Milton, DE 19968
apachedevil@gmail.com
3026842903

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judith Robinson <jkwolfjr@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Judith Robinson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Judith Robinson
202 Salem Ct
Princeton, NJ 08540-7040
jkwolfjr@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lisa Garrison <garrison.lisastewart@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Lisa Garrison <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lisa Garrison
PO Box 113
Fairton, NJ 08320-0113
garrison.lisastewart@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: robert viola <rjviola@outlook.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, robert viola <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

robert viola
5 Impala Ct
Whiting, NJ 08759-3614
rjviola@outlook.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marie Maciel <mtctam@outlook.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Marie Maciel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marie Maciel
118 Old York Rd
Bridgewater, NJ 08807-2734
mtctam@outlook.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Bartels <karenbartels@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Karen Bartels <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Bartels
45 Greenbriar Row
Princeton, NJ 08540-2832
karenbartels@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lillian Gueli <rustybabee425@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Lillian Gueli <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lillian Gueli
67 Ravine Dr
Matawan, NJ 07747-2925
rustybabee425@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Christopher Ecker <cecker@me.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Christopher Ecker <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Christopher Ecker
112 Calvert Rd
Rockville, MD 20850-3812
cecker@me.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Greene <rgreene9@me.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Robert Greene <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Greene
11 Burroughs Ave
Titusville, NJ 08560-1627
rgreene9@me.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nancy Tanzi <nancy.tanzi@edison.k12.nj.us>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Nancy Tanzi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nancy Tanzi
7 A RUNYON AVE
Edison, NJ 088173515
nancy.tanzi@edison.k12.nj.us

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judith Foys <jacfoys@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:29 AM, Judith Foys <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Judith Foys
247 Walnut St
Audubon, NJ 08106-1649
jacfoys@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Virginia Higgins <ginnyhig@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:13 AM, Virginia Higgins <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Virginia Higgins
1220 Newark Ave
Whiting, NJ 08759-4206
ginnyhig@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: lisa kingsley <lisajok@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:13 AM, lisa kingsley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

lisa kingsley
830 Westover Ave Apt 4
Norfolk, VA 23507-1526
lisajok@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dana Brereton <lifeisrelaxing@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:13 AM, Dana Brereton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dana Brereton
2308 Dorset Dock Rd
Point Pleasant Boro, NJ 08742-3735
lifeisrelaxing@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Henry Scarupa <hpscarupa@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:13 AM, Henry Scarupa <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Henry Scarupa
4701 Willard Ave Apt 1634
N Chevy Chase, MD 20815-4634
hpscarupa@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Caryl Sawyer <cmsawyer90@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:13 AM, Caryl Sawyer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Caryl Sawyer
13 Raines Ave
Sandston, VA 23150-2044
cmsawyer90@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Collins <spellbind@earthlink.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:59 AM, Joseph Collins <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Collins
10141 124th St
South Richmond Hill, NY 11419-2101
spellbind@earthlink.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Melissa Galarza <uhmellyx3@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:59 AM, Melissa Galarza <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Melissa Galarza
370 Barbey St
Brooklyn, NY 11207-3730
uhmellyx3@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda McDougal <linmcdoug@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:59 AM, Linda McDougal <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda McDougal
PO Box 216
19151 Polish Town Road,
Barhamsville, VA 23011-0216
linmcdoug@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Janie Horowitz <jsh51@live.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:59 AM, Janie Horowitz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Janie Horowitz
12 Coles Ct
River Edge, NJ 07661-1002
jsh51@live.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mayelly Moreno <mm172@nyu.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:43 AM, Mayelly Moreno <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mayelly Moreno
20 Sidney Pl Apt 1e
Brooklyn, NY 11201-4687
mm172@nyu.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Erma Lewis <elewisnyc@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:43 AM, Erma Lewis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Erma Lewis
1736 63 Street
NY 11204
elewisnyc@yahoo.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Barrett <turteliz@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Elizabeth Barrett <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Barrett
306 Mill Crk
Pompton Plains, NJ 07444-2112
turteliz@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Christy Carosella <cacarosella@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Christy Carosella <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Christy Carosella
10720 107th St
Ozone Park, NY 11417-2317
cacarosella@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dottie Robinson <dottie_robinson@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Dottie Robinson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dottie Robinson
102 Eighth St
Salem, NJ 08079-1013
dottie_robinson@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nancy Taiani <nancytaiani@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Nancy Taiani <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nancy Taiani
926 Bloomfield Ave Apt 9d
Glen Ridge, NJ 07028-1319
nancytaiani@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rose Ash <rmash1948@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Rose Ash <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rose Ash
519 Virginia St Apt 1
Buffalo, NY 14202-1415
rmash1948@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Harry Silvers <hsilvers98@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Harry Silvers <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Harry Silvers
21 North Dr
Tabernacle, NJ 08088-8647
hsilvers98@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Stephen Vetrano <sjvdo@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Stephen Vetrano <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Stephen Vetrano
48 Martin Ln
Trenton, NJ 08619-1137
sjvdo@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Temma Fishman
210 Chippewa Trail
Medford, NJ 08055
temmafish@aol.com
69-654-0718

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Vanessa Ray <uvray2000@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:43 AM, Vanessa Ray <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Vanessa Ray
184 Kent Ave
Brooklyn, NY 11249-3118
uvray2000@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathleen Mccarthy <kmccarthy99@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Kathleen Mccarthy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathleen Mccarthy
114 W 27th St Apt 5n
New York, NY 10001-6219
kmccarthy99@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jeanneadele Pallen <jeannepallen@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Jeanneadele Pallen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jeanneadele Pallen
17 Weyburn Way
NY 14450
jeannepallen@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:26 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kevin Kozak
91 815 puamaeole st apt s
Ewa Beach, HI 96706
www.shakakevin@aol.com
7326443180

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jonlethia King
1 Highstream Court
Germantown, MD 20874
jonlethia@gmail.com
(240) 632-8562

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Holly <robholly88@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Robert Holly <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Holly
400 Deal Lake Dr Apt 5h
Asbury Park, NJ 07712-5174
robholly88@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Helene Forst
176 Newtown Lane
East Hampton, NY 11937
tpioneers@aol.com
(631) 324-7068

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:06 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Timothy Beitel
42 Villa Avenue
Pitman, NJ 08071
beiteltimothy@gmail.com
(856) 589-5488

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Denise Lytle <centauress6@live.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Denise Lytle <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Denise Lytle
11 Wisteria Dr Apt 3f
Fords, NJ 08863-1126
centauress6@live.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:05 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Lauren Whatley
531 Vanderbilt Ave
Brooklyn, NY 11238
lvwhatley@gmail.com
(206) 235-1420

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marion Harris <marionoharris@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Marion Harris <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marion Harris
14 Oak St
Morristown, NJ 07960-5240
marionoharris@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Thomas V . Connor" <tconnor@hvc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Thomas V . Connor <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Thomas V . Connor
17 Dubois St
Wallkill, NY 12589-3113
tconnor@hvc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:28 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:01 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Mark Heffner
1750 Stuller Rd
New Windsor, MD 21776
theheffners@comcast.net
(443) 244-6944

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John D'Arcy
222 Dogwood Ct
Holmdel, NJ 07733
jdarcy310@gmail.com
(732) 997-6191

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Janis Janis Markopoulos
19470 Coastal Hwy #5
Rehoboth Beach, DE 19971
janis@delmarvaboardsports.com
3022609008

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathy Kearns <kkearns11542@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Kathy Kearns <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathy Kearns
50 Harwood Dr E
Glen Cove, NY 11542-1802
kkearns11542@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gail Burns <gailburns33@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Gail Burns <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gail Burns
72 Crestwood Blvd
Farmingdale, NY 11735-5801
gailburns33@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eric Rohmann <egrohmann2@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:00 PM, Eric Rohmann <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eric Rohmann
42 Washington Crossing Pe Rd
Pennington, NJ 08534-3514
egrohmann2@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Richard Shannahan <rshannahan@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:43 AM, Richard Shannahan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Richard Shannahan
1615 Greenspring Dr
Lutherville, MD 21093-4907
rshannahan@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: mary cerrone <catsarelove.19@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:43 AM, mary cerrone <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

mary cerrone
8940 151st Ave
Howard Beach, NY 11414-1526
catsarelove.19@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ron Tergesen <rtergesen@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:43 AM, Ron Tergesen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ron Tergesen
9 Simmons Dr
East Islip, NY 11730-2814
rtergesen@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: LINDA LITWIN <lindalitwin@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, LINDA LITWIN <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

LINDA LITWIN
771 E Gude Dr
Rockville, MD 20850-1329
lindalitwin@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jan Hoogenboom <jhoogenboom8@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, Jan Hoogenboom <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jan Hoogenboom
1715 Palmetto St Apt 1r
Ridgewood, NY 11385-2874
jhoogenboom8@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cheryl Scher <scher1963@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, Cheryl Scher <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cheryl Scher
11350 Channel Rd
Atlantic, VA 23303-2114
scher1963@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rhonda Johnson <rdtgjohnson@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, Rhonda Johnson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rhonda Johnson
240 Rainwater Dr
Aylett, VA 23009-3320 rdtgjohnson@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:31 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Veronica Neely
457 Sonia Ave
Matawan, NJ 07747
veronica.walsh@gmail.com
(732) 241-2276

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:31 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kevin Kozak
91 815 puamaeole st apt s
Ewa Beach, HI 96706
www.shakakevin@aol.com
7326443180

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jen Rohman <rohmansny@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Jen Rohman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jen Rohman
395 North Ave
Fanwood, NJ 07023-1340
rohmansny@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judy Pizarro <jxp411@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Judy Pizarro <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Judy Pizarro
55 E Kings Hwy
Maple Shade, NJ 08052-2056
jxp411@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Geoffrey Hybel <ghybel1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Geoffrey Hybel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Geoffrey Hybel
84 Dingley Rd
Carmel, NY 10512-5839
ghybel1@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: cave man <mrrails@yahoo.ca>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, cave man <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

cave man
609 Main St
New York, NY 10044-0022
mrrails@yahoo.ca

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Chris Schaeffner <lafayetteforge@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Chris Schaeffner <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Chris Schaeffner
210 Beaver Run Rd
Lafayette, NJ 07848-3137
lafayetteforge@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barry Chalofsky <bchalofs@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Barry Chalofsky <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barry Chalofsky
29 Pineknoll Dr
Lawrence Twp, NJ 08648-3143
bchalofs@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kevin Kozak
91 815 puamaeole st apt s
Ewa Beach, HI 96706
www.shakakevin@aol.com
7326443180

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kevin Kozak
91 815 puamaeole st apt s
Ewa Beach, HI 96706
www.shakakevin@aol.com
7326443180

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kevin Kozak
91 815 puamaeole st apt s
Ewa Beach, HI 96706
www.shakakevin@aol.com
7326443180

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Sommyr Pochan
7005 Catamaran Way
Queens, NY 11692
sommyr@gmail.com
(585) 402-5884

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Matthias <jamatthias@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, Joseph Matthias <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Matthias
254 Cypress Dr
Bayville, NJ 08721-3132
jamatthias@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Pease <velmaliz69@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, Elizabeth Pease <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Pease
306 Sundown Trl Apt 1a
Williamsville, NY 14221-2286
velmaliz69@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Diane Buxbaum <ddbuxbaum@earthlink.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, Diane Buxbaum <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Diane Buxbaum
365 Sackett St
Brooklyn, NY 11231-4703
ddbuxbaum@earthlink.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Athena Katsifis <athena321@me.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Athena Katsifis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Athena Katsifis
1 Jennifer Way
New Egypt, NJ 08533-2743
athena321@me.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Edith Alston <edicat541@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, Edith Alston <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Edith Alston
308 W 82nd St
New York, NY 10024-5344
edicat541@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Donna Saxton <djsaxton@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Donna Saxton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Donna Saxton
622 S Randolph Ave
Cinnaminson, NJ 08077-1818
djsaxton@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: JUSTINE TILLEY <spiritsoncall063@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:29 AM, JUSTINE TILLEY <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

JUSTINE TILLEY
1607 Ben Franklin Cir
Williamsburg, VA 23188-7641
spiritsoncall063@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nicholas Prychodko <prychdk@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:13 AM, Nicholas Prychodko <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nicholas Prychodko
PO Box 2138
Bridgehampton, NY 11932-2138
prychdk@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Christine Koehler <cioci0357@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:13 AM, Christine Koehler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Christine Koehler
59 Evelyn Ave
Vineland, NJ 08360-4931
cioci0357@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: diane salek <dianesalek@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:13 AM, diane salek <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

diane salek
129 Stratford Dr
Nutley, NJ 07110-3919
dianesalek@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Charles kennedy <ckennedy2@nyc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:13 AM, Charles kennedy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Charles kennedy
26 W 74th St
New York, NY 10023-2444
ckennedy2@nyc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Corey Schade <coreyschade@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:13 AM, Corey Schade <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Corey Schade
11 Buena Vista Ct
Loch Arbour, NJ 07711-1201
coreyschade@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Schuessler <rjjs@adelphia.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Robert Schuessler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Schuessler
48 Grayton Rd
Tonawanda, NY 14150-9008
rjjs@adelphia.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Corey Schade <coreyschade@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Corey Schade <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Corey Schade
11 Buena Vista Ct
Loch Arbour, NJ 07711-1201
coreyschade@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joan Agro <jagro@opblauvelt.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Joan Agro <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joan Agro
19 Cortwood Vlg
Orangeburg, NY 10962-2843
jagro@opblauvelt.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Peter Burval <blacknova99@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Peter Burval <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Peter Burval
115 Bailey Ave
Hillside, NJ 07205-1601
blacknova99@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Art Margulies <quartertonner@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Art Margulies <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Art Margulies
604 Thomas Ave
Little Egg Harbor Twp, NJ 08087-9756
quartertonner@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kate Sherwood <kt3632003@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Kate Sherwood <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kate Sherwood
96 Barnes St
Long Beach, NY 11561-2615
kt3632003@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Michael Wildermuth <mike_wildermuth@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Michael Wildermuth <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Michael Wildermuth
5 Mc Elwaine Dr
Freehold, NJ 07728-2215
mike_wildermuth@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jill Loomis <jrloomis@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Jill Loomis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jill Loomis
201 W 74th St Apt 9h
New York, NY 10023-2118
jrloomis@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robin Rohr <rohr@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Robin Rohr <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robin Rohr
3 Oceanport Ave
Bayville, NJ 08721-1156
rohr@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Wendy Curtis <wendy@schiff.ws>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Wendy Curtis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Wendy Curtis
88 Inwood Ave
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043-2540
wendy@schiff.ws

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM
Subject: Re: All life depends on the oceans!
To: Suzie Elliott <spenyc@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Suzie Elliott <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

First and foremost, we must ensure that the oceans remain healthy for the sake of virtually all life on Earth.

This is far more important than worrying about vacation spots and jobs. The oceans die, we die, and we take thousands of species with us.

The Ocean Action Plan should be drawn up in that context.

The Mid-Atlantic's offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Suzie Elliott
46 W 89th St
New York, NY 10024-2069
spenyc@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joyce Grant <jvgrant@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Joyce Grant <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

This has been too long a time in coming. Thank you for recognizing this need.

Sincerely.

Joyce Grant
1701 Ocean Ave
Asbury Park, NJ 07712-5646
jvgrant@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:14 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Matthew Downing
930 Grand Concourse Apt 3A
Bronx, NY 10451
matthewdowning@netscape.net
(646) 243-3117

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Holly Clark <hjclark50@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Holly Clark <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Holly Clark
505 Sansom St
Upper Darby, PA 19082-2215
hjclark50@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elsa Rush <nrush1@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Elsa Rush <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elsa Rush
18 High Tor Rd
New City, NY 10956-5703
nrush1@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:15 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Matthew Downing
930 Grand Concourse Apt 3A
Bronx, NY 10451
matthewdowning@netscape.net
(646) 243-3117

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:17 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Timothy Beitel
42 Villa Avenue
Pitman, NJ 08071
beiteltimothy@gmail.com
(856) 589-5488

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Laurie Storm <koostorm@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Laurie Storm <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Laurie Storm
80 Howell St
Buffalo, NY 14207-2804
koostorm@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:38 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:18 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Betty Toto
76 Petty Rd
Cranbury, NJ 08512
betblase@aol.com
(609) 860-9398

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Torjussen <ethome.nine@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:13 PM, Elizabeth Torjussen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Torjussen
9 Londonderry St
Galloway, NJ 08205-5615
ethome.nine@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nora Gaines <ngaines@bankstreet.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:59 AM, Nora Gaines <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nora Gaines
PO Box 811
New York, NY 10024-0545
ngaines@bankstreet.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:38 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Deborah Coble <dccoble@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Deborah Coble <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Deborah Coble
7432 Liffey Ln
Liverpool, NY 13088-4610
dccoble@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:38 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:22 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Christine Gyovai
2573 Pea Ridge Rd
Charlottesville, VA 22901
christinegyovai@gmail.com
(434) 962-8358

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kitty Chen <chenkmm@nyc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Kitty Chen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kitty Chen
152 W 94th St Apt 1
New York, NY 10025-7057
chenkmm@nyc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Francis Cote <france9347@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Francis Cote <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Francis Cote
438 West Ave
Delanco, NJ 08075-5028
france9347@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: liz krum <lizk71@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, liz krum <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

liz krum
po box 345
NJ 08863
lizk71@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Deborah Beattie <dulcenaisia@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Deborah Beattie <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Deborah Beattie
745 Kilgor Ct
Newark, DE 19702-4068
dulcenaisia@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Peter Wood <nativeofny1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Peter Wood <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Peter Wood
Mitchell Place
New York, NY 10017
nativeofny1@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Stacey Riccardi <sriccardi@hwm-law.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Stacey Riccardi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Stacey Riccardi
200 Harrison Ave Apt 9
Harrison, NY 10528-4333
sriccardi@hwm-law.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carolyn Daurio <cdaurio@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Carolyn Daurio <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

The American Littoral Society has the right idea on ocean issues.

Sincerely.

Carolyn Daurio
712 Willow Grove Rd
Westfield, NJ 07090-3500
cdaurio@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Marie Rizzo <amr4shane@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Ann Marie Rizzo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Marie Rizzo
260 Falmouth Ave
Elmwood Park, NJ 07407-2810
amr4shane@aol.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Inga Robbins <robbinsi4291@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Inga Robbins <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Inga Robbins
562 Stonewall Dr
Galloway, NJ 08205-3247
robbinsi4291@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Glenn Secor <gasecor@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, Glenn Secor <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Glenn Secor
165 Amick Rd
Louisa, VA 23093-4408
gasecor@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: renee burgan <burgan0925@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, renee burgan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

renee burgan
913 mulberry ave
MD 21742
burgan0925@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: William J Bolen <landyacht65@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:43 AM, William J Bolen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

William J Bolen
604 Sunshine Ct
Brick, NJ 08724-5108
landyacht65@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:40 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Allan Goldstein <dymodad@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Allan Goldstein <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Allan Goldstein
3 Hillcrest Ct
Old Tappan, NJ 07675-7400
dymodad@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:41 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 AM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

I am so excited to see a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! I applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Anupa Asokan
1629 Columbia Rd NW
Washington, DC 20009-chair@dc.surfrider.org
(352) 804-8744

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Annette Overstreet <starchild6@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:29 AM, Annette Overstreet <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Annette Overstreet
202 Shady Oak Ln
Forest, VA 24551-1112
starchild6@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Raymond Arent <rjarent@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:29 AM, Raymond Arent <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Raymond Arent
1 Belleview Dr
Severna Park, MD 21146-4845
rjarent@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patti Barnes <pattibarnes1@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:29 AM, Patti Barnes <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patti Barnes
5272 Waller Ct
Virginia Beach, VA 23464-5445
pattibarnes1@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:41 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Matty Giuliano <mgiuliano164@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:29 AM, Matty Giuliano <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Matty Giuliano
11 E Jack St
Hazlet, NJ 07730-2048
mgiuliano164@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:49 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Alpa Patel <rxstudent006@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Alpa Patel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Alpa Patel
334 Terrace Ave
Jersey City, NJ 07307-3954
rxstudent006@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:49 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Fante <lfante@cooperlevenson.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Linda Fante <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Fante
220 N Rosborough Ave
Ventnor City, NJ 08406-1603
lfante@cooperlevenson.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:49 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Steve Troyanovich <stephen.troyanovich@att.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Steve Troyanovich <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Steve Troyanovich
1 Pelle Ct
Florence, NJ 08518-1615
stephen.troyanovich@att.net
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ruth Leine <rhleine@optimum.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Ruth Leine <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ruth Leine
104 Green Knolls Dr
Wayne, NJ 07470-6124
rhleine@optimum.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: James Vragel <henryhawke@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, James Vragel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

James Vragel
107g The Orch
East Windsor, NJ 08512-2326
henryhawke@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bruce Dean <bdean591@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Bruce Dean <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bruce Dean
18 1/2 Valley Rd Apt 3
Wilmington, DE 19804-1461
bdean591@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rosemarie Smith <rosemarietoo@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Rosemarie Smith <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rosemarie Smith
400 Burlington Ave
Delanco, NJ 08075-4308
rosemarietoo@verizon.net
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Frank Pellegrino <ezbok43b@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Frank Pellegrino <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Frank Pellegrino
11 W George Pl
Iselin, NJ 08830-1101
ezbok43b@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Debra Griner <bessiem@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Debra Griner <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Debra Griner
345 W 86th St # 506
New York, NY 10024-3113
bessiem@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:50 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carolyn Szela <mrscs@outlook.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Carolyn Szela <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carolyn Szela
136 Francis St
Phillipsburg, NJ 08865-4336
mrscs@outlook.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:51 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Janet Webekind <jwebekind@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Janet Webekind <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Janet Webekind
3223 Dutch Mill Rd
Newfield, NJ 08344-5556
jwebekind@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:51 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: ROBNETT ROMERO <rromero1127@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:29 AM, ROBNETT ROMERO <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

ROBNETT ROMERO
560 Broadway
Paterson, NJ 07514-2518
rromero1127@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:51 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: kenneth wolf <kwolfsded@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:29 AM, kenneth wolf <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

kenneth wolf
636 Magothy View Dr
Arnold, MD 21012-1532
kwolfsded@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:51 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Chuck McAlexander <brasslab@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:29 AM, Chuck McAlexander <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Chuck McAlexander
221 McKibben St
18
Brooklyn, NY 11206-3512
brasslab@verizon.net
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:33 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

David Snope
31 School St.
Califon, NJ 07830
ds31ds@centurylink.net
(908) 975-9759

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:51 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rochelle Thomas <rochelleleethomas@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Rochelle Thomas <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rochelle Thomas
172 W 109th St Apt 5e
New York, NY 10025-2585
rochelleleethomas@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Leslie Armstrong <leslie817@earthlink.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Leslie Armstrong <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Leslie Armstrong
160 Bethel Ave
Staten Island, NY 10307-1327
leslie817@earthlink.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: patricia kayne <pkayne@verdura.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, patricia kayne <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

patricia kayne
28 Riverside Ave Apt 11f
Red Bank, NJ 07701-1081
pkayne@verdura.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Debra Gannon <debzy1214@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Debra Gannon <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Debra Gannon
632 Warburton Ave Apt 2g
Yonkers, NY 10701-1634
debzy1214@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ilse Spiegel <schoenbrunn85@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Ilse Spiegel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ilse Spiegel
317 Sumpter St
Brooklyn, NY 11233-2712
schoenbrunn85@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judith Weis <jweis@andromeda.rutgers.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Judith Weis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Judith Weis
170 W End Ave Apt 12n
New York, NY 10023-5404
jweis@andromeda.rutgers.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:52 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cara Lea-Ballard <caraclbclb@aim.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Cara Lea-Ballard <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cara Lea-Ballard
10825 72nd Ave Apt 6g
Forest Hills, NY 11375-7802
caraclbclb@aim.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Alan Harper <rayeharper34@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Alan Harper <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Alan Harper
3330 Warner Rd
Richmond, VA 23225-1353
rayeharper34@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Millonig <b81alm@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Ann Millonig <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Millonig
89 Clinton Ave
NY 12401
b81alm@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Yvonne Grant <vonnieglobal@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Yvonne Grant <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:
Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

I am a great fan of the American Littoral Society because of the important work it does to preserve and take care of everything that is connected to the coast. Our East Coast is very special and I would like to see it taken care of as best as possible. Please find below recommendations from the American Littoral Society and the NJ League of Conservation Voters for add ons to the Draft Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan.

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Yvonne Grant
91 Country Club Ln
Salem, NJ 08079-3650
vonnieglobal@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kristina Ruhland <kristina.krise@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:13 AM, Kristina Ruhland <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kristina Ruhland
468 Feura Bush Rd
Glenmont, NY 12077-2925
kristina.krise@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tanya Cox <tanya1120@icloud.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Tanya Cox <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tanya Cox
228 Eastview Dr
Madison Heights, VA 24572-4414
tanya1120@icloud.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eileen Kennedy <efkennedy@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Eileen Kennedy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:
Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species. I have lived and worked within 5 miles of the ocean for 55 of my 61 years and still do today and getting this plan right is very important to me.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely,

Eileen Kennedy
136 Crescent Drive
Red Bank, NJ 07701

Sincerely.

Eileen Kennedy
136 Crescent Dr
Red Bank, NJ 07701-5838
efkennedy@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:53 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Linda Mack, Trustee Monmouth County Audubon Society" <lj.mack@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Linda Mack, Trustee Monmouth County Audubon Society <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. Offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it is critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. We acknowledge the RPB for its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan.Incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. The draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, we know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Mack, Trustee Monmouth County Audubon Society
PO Box 542
Red Bank, NJ 07701-0542
lj.mack@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jacqueline Hill <hillie005@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Jacqueline Hill <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jacqueline Hill
42 Edith Ave
Saugerties, NY 12477-2228
hillie005@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Andrew Hinz <ahinz@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Andrew Hinz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Andrew Hinz
1427 Park Ave
Baltimore, MD 21217-4231
ahinz@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: paul heloskie <pheloski@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, paul heloskie <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

paul heloskie
2075 Alan Dr
Seaford, NY 11783-2702
pheloski@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: joann rivezzo <joannjayanthi@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, joann rivezzo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

joann rivezzo
1516 E 59th St
Brooklyn, NY 11234-4106
joannjayanthi@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Blanche Jones <jbcexpress@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Blanche Jones <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Blanche Jones
2 E Sunnyside St
Troy, NY 12180-1419
jbcexpress@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:54 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Nierenberg <qnbear@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Susan Nierenberg <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Nierenberg
365 Edgewood Ave
Teaneck, NJ 07666-3024
qnbear@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Lippiello <jlippiello@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, John Lippiello <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Lippiello
2467 Rt 10, 45-1b
Morris Plains, NJ 07950
jlippiello@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Sandritter <asndrttr@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Ann Sandritter <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Sandritter
3 Ashwood Mall
Old Bridge, NJ 08857-4521
asndrttr@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:55 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dolores Amesbury <deebury@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, Dolores Amesbury <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dolores Amesbury
101 E Woodland Ave
Cape May Court House, NJ 08210-3815
deebury@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:55 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:33 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

valerie gilbert
345 E. 56th St
NY, NY 10022
weareallone@verizon.net
(212) 458-3185

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: denise nyman <denise2231@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:59 AM, denise nyman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

denise nyman
2231 Buttonwood Ln
Millville, NJ 08332-3615
denise2231@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jane karetny <janekaretny@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Jane karetny <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jane karetny
50 Oceana Dr W Apt 8f
Brooklyn, NY 11235-7063
janekaretny@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barbara Charles <tribird@mindspring.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Barbara Charles <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barbara Charles
180 W 58th St
New York, NY 10019-2145
tribird@mindspring.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Donna Landers-George <jonnawls@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Donna Landers-George <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Donna Landers-George
15 Frevert Pl
Hicksville, NY 11801-4911
jonnawls@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Shirley Rice <sce@empacc.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Shirley Rice <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Shirley Rice
South Hill Road
Burdett, NY 14818
sce@empacc.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Wendi Cohen <wcohen@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Wendi Cohen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Wendi Cohen
50 Glendale Rd
Ossining, NY 10562-1619
wcohen@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Brandon Peoples <brandon.k.peoples@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Brandon Peoples <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Brandon Peoples
63 Linden Dr
Fair Haven, NJ 07704-3534
brandon.k.peoples@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Merelyn Dolins <merelyndolins@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Merelyn Dolins <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Merelyn Dolins
10 Brookside Rd
Maplewood, NJ 07040-1202
merelyndolins@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Amanda Duerkes <amandamarie9423@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Amanda Duerkes <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Amanda Duerkes
419 Brick Blvd Apt 40a
Brick, NJ 08723-6046
amandamarie9423@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gail DelSavio <trueblue@delhitel.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Gail DelSavio <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gail DelSavio
3770 Basin Clove Rd
Hamden, NY 13782-2422
trueblue@delhitel.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:57 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sarah Stewart <sas05@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:43 AM, Sarah Stewart <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sarah Stewart
340 Campbell Ave
Belford, NJ 07718-1555
sas05@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary Ann Fastook <meowsmaryann@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Mary Ann Fastook <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary Ann Fastook
225 Adams St Apt 15f
Brooklyn, NY 11201-2873
meowsmaryann@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Scott Beaver <sbeav239@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Scott Beaver <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Scott Beaver
434 Long Branch Ave
Long Branch, NJ 07740-7635
sbeav239@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Joseph M. Varon" <jvaron613@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Joseph M. Varon <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph M. Varon
244 Lindberg St
West Hempstead, NY 11552-2431
jvaron613@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Diane Roca <dbroca@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Diane Roca <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Diane Roca
5121 Watchwood Path
Columbia, MD 21044-5708
dbroca@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Richard Ingraham <dikker57@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Richard Ingraham <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Richard Ingraham
11Hatfield Rd
TomsRiver, NJ 08757
dikker57@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:58 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Martina Eng <martina0826@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Martina Eng <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Martina Eng
24 Alta Vista Cir
Irvington, NY 10533-1052
martina0826@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Steven Plust <splust@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Steven Plust <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Steven Plust
45 Deepdene Rd
Forest Hills, NY 11375-6061
splust@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Faith Tieri <ftieri@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Faith Tieri <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Faith Tieri
10 Riverdale Ave
Monmouth Beach, NJ 07750-1447
ftieri@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Margaret Gallagher <margeegal63@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Margaret Gallagher <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Margaret Gallagher
1335 Artists Ln
Bel Air, MD 21015-8615
margeegal63@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Amy Biggs <abiggs66219@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Amy Biggs <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Amy Biggs
8040 Crianza Pl
Vienna, VA 22182-4059
abiggs66219@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robin Spurlino <rspurlino@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Robin Spurlino <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robin Spurlino
109 Kaiser Dr
Downingtown, PA 19335-1261
rspurlino@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: r vanstrien <zvan030@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, r vanstrien <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

r vanstrien
25 Independence Blvd
Warren, NJ 07059-2720
zvan030@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:59 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Brent Hepner <sojrnr2@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Brent Hepner <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Brent Hepner
720 Pennsylvania Ave
Norfolk, VA 23508-2839
sojrnr2@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Paul Katz <musicat245@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, Paul Katz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Paul Katz
405 W 45th St Apt 6d
New York, NY 10036-3577
musicat245@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Moy <jmoy@ospf.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:29 AM, John Moy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Moy
25 Eel Point Rd
Nantucket, MA 02554-2018
jmoy@ospf.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Yolanda Ann Commarato <ycommarato@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Yolanda Ann Commarato <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Yolanda Ann Commarato
120 Creek Rd
Keansburg, NJ 07734-1529
ycommarato@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Harriet Grose <adgrose@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Harriet Grose <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Harriet Grose
45 Picatinny Rd
Morristown, NJ 07960-4813
adgrose@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Louise Usechak <louiseusechak@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Louise Usechak <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Louise Usechak
20 Corn Ln
Shrewsbury, NJ 07702-4517
louiseusechak@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marjorie Levy <mbldtc@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Marjorie Levy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marjorie Levy
21 Adams Way
Shrewsbury, NJ 07702-4336
mbldtc@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Metzger <aa4kp@genset.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Carol Metzger <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carol Metzger
954 Perkins Rd
Kents Store, VA 23084-2344
aa4kp@genset.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jeanne Oppel <jboppel1@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Jeanne Oppel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jeanne Oppel
147 Watchung Ave
Chatham, NJ 07928-1829
jboppel1@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:01 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:37 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Walt Bell
1513 Birch Leaf Rd
Chesapeake, VA 23320
walt_bell@yahoo.com
+1 (757) 469-0094

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gina Itri <gmi526@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Gina Itri <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gina Itri
1900 Barbee Ln
Wall Township, NJ 07719-3604
gmi526@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:01 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lynn Levin <lynnlevin@rocketmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Lynn Levin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lynn Levin
75 Hobart Ave
Bayonne, NJ 07002-4207
lynnlevin@rocketmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:02 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dale Waters <arabellar@outlook.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Dale Waters <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dale Waters
12 Muirfield Ct
Medford, NJ 08055-8729
arabellar@outlook.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:02 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Frank Steimle <fsteimle@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Frank Steimle <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Frank Steimle
PO Box 465
Allenhurst, NJ 07711-0465
fsteimle@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:02 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mahesha De Silva <kamsdesilva@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Mahesha De Silva <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mahesha De Silva
415East, 37th Street
Manhattan, NY 10016
kamsdesilva@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:02 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: June Balish <jbalish@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:12 AM, June Balish <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

June Balish
707 E 19th St
Brooklyn, NY 11230-1805
jbalish@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:02 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Prybylski <jpnycs46@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, John Prybylski <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Prybylski
20 Mayberry Dr E
Buffalo, NY 14227-3018
jpnycs46@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:02 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kimcarolyn Olds <oldsfrfx@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Kimcarolyn Olds <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kimcarolyn Olds
1503 Asheville Rd
Forestville, MD 20747-1943
oldsfrfx@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Edith Neimark <neimark@rci.rutgers.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Edith Neimark <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate the recommendations below to make the Plan stronger and more reflective of ocean users and coastal citizens.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even the few actions outlined in the draft Plan lack a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Edith Neimark
17 Boxwood Dr
Princeton, NJ 08540-9455
neimark@rci.rutgers.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Bonnie J. Smith" <bjsmith@vt.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Bonnie J. Smith <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bonnie J. Smith
1922 Mud Pike
VA 24073
bjsmith@vt.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathleen Broderick <flany52@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Kathleen Broderick <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathleen Broderick
203 Fair Oak St
Little Valley, NY 14755-1114
flany52@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lenore Swenson <lenoreswenson@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Lenore Swenson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lenore Swenson
60 E 9th St Apt 529
New York, NY 10003-6445
lenoreswenson@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Louise Tokarsky-Unda <angrybluesquirrel@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Louise Tokarsky-Unda <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Louise Tokarsky-Unda
23 Vones Lane
NJ 08869
angrybluesquirrel@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nicholas Cartabona <goodpaper1@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:13 AM, Nicholas Cartabona <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nicholas Cartabona
16 Schuyler Ave
NJ 07440
goodpaper1@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patrick Moctezuma <progress@blueridgebounty.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:12 AM, Patrick Moctezuma <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patrick Moctezuma
155 E Daffodil Rd
Ruckersville, VA 22968-2442
progress@blueridgebounty.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Keyla Cruz <keylacruz@me.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:12 AM, Keyla Cruz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Keyla Cruz
8904 Gold Rd
Ozone Park, NY 11417-2046
keylacruz@me.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Holland <jslholland@nyc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, John Holland <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Holland
140 E 92nd St Apt 3s
New York, NY 10128-1615
jslholland@nyc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Debra Elder <lil_devil_200317@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Debra Elder <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Debra Elder
40 Bayswater Blvd
Inwood, NY 11096-1104
lil_devil_200317@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lynn Poinier <lynnpoinier@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Lynn Poinier <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lynn Poinier
PO Box
NJ 07712
lynnpoinier@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Melissa Gregory <mgreg0001@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Melissa Gregory <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Melissa Gregory
325 W 45th St
NY 10036
mgreg0001@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Len Neering <lpn072@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Len Neering <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Len Neering
72 Sperling Rd
Clifton, NJ 07013-2337
lpn072@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Arlene Zuckerman <arlenenyc@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Arlene Zuckerman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Arlene Zuckerman
11035 72nd Rd Apt 606
Forest Hills, NY 11375-5476
arlenenyc@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gary Herwig <garysherwig@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Gary Herwig <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gary Herwig
1808 Loch Shiel Rd
Parkville, MD 21234-5218
garysherwig@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kim Sellon <kimsellon@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Kim Sellon <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kim Sellon
1253 Springfield Ave
New Providence, NJ 07974-2931
kimsellon@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kim Sellon <kimsellon@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Kim Sellon <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kim Sellon
1253 Springfield Ave
New Providence, NJ 07974-2931
kimsellon@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Radley <betsjrad@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Elizabeth Radley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Radley
268 Henry St Apt 5r
Brooklyn, NY 11201-4610
betsjrad@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:06 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: bob liddell <dukel@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, bob liddell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

bob liddell
315 E Euclid St
Valley Stream, NY 11580-4722
dukel@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lynn Gale <lynngale@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Lynn Gale <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lynn Gale
10 Essex Ave
Maplewood, NJ 07040-1503
lynngale@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Victoria Mack <vicki8074@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:59 AM, Victoria Mack <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Victoria Mack
795 Twin Rivers Dr N
East Windsor, NJ 08520-5669
vicki8074@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barbara Moskal <strawbunny36@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:42 AM, Barbara Moskal <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barbara Moskal
8 Turs Ct Fl 2
Wallington, NJ 07057-2213
strawbunny36@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joyce Larry <joyceskyeandstorme@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:30 PM, Joyce Larry <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joyce Larry
7335 Chestnut Ave
Elkins Park, PA 19027-3217
joyceskyeandstorme@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: john Sarkozy <mangrovejohn@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:42 AM, john Sarkozy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

john Sarkozy
501 Bayview Ave
Osprey, FL 34229-9565
mangrovejohn@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Donna Fasanella <pro_aktv@icloud.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:29 AM, Donna Fasanella <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Donna Fasanella
72 Franklin Corner Rd
Lawrence Township, NJ 08648-2102
pro_aktv@icloud.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Florence Summergrad <flomommy@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:59 AM, Florence Summergrad <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Florence Summergrad
3170 JFK Blvd
JERSEY CITY, NJ 07306-3524
flomommy@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Catherine Guderian <wguderian39@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:59 AM, Catherine Guderian <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Catherine Guderian
39 Grand Bay Harbor Dr
Waretown, NJ 08758-2553
wguderian39@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bambi Magie <mosaicgal22@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:29 AM, Bambi Magie <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bambi Magie
213 McGuire Blvd
Brick, NJ 08724-7714
mosaicgal22@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Paul Williams <democraticsocialist@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:29 AM, Paul Williams <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Paul Williams
100 Canterbury Ln
Toms River, NJ 08757-6590
democraticsocialist@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lou Matlack <lmatlack@igc.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 11:28 PM, Lou Matlack <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lou Matlack
35 Mendham Rd
Bernardsville, NJ 07924-1603
lmatlack@igc.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nicole Scott-Harris <n_scottharris@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 10:58 PM, Nicole Scott-Harris <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nicole Scott-Harris
260 Watchung Ave Apt C
Orange, NJ 07050-1745
n_scottharris@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Laura Dickey <poetfire40@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 10:12 PM, Laura Dickey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Laura Dickey
917 Main St # 3l
Boonton, NJ 07005-1451
poetfire40@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gail Kelly <gkelly4me@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 9:42 PM, Gail Kelly <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gail Kelly
368 Auburn St
Wyckoff, NJ 07481-3159
gkelly4me@optonline

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jamie Helaudais <jhelaudais@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 9:42 PM, Jamie Helaudais <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jamie Helaudais
PO Box 43
Swartswood, NJ 07877-0043
jhelaudais@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sharon Cappuccio <scpetkids@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 9:42 PM, Sharon Cappuccio <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sharon Cappuccio
220 Marlyn Ave
Hammonton, NJ 08037-1811
scpetkids@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Roseann McNulty <fade2black410474@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 9:42 PM, Roseann McNulty <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Roseann McNulty
24 Farnwood Rd
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-2914
fade2black410474@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dipali Nagar <dipsamit@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 8:58 PM, Dipali Nagar <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dipali Nagar
14 Howell Ct
West Windsor, NJ 08550-3213
dipsamit@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: kim randall <kimkimmie08@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 8:42 PM, kim randall <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

kim randall
For our children
Burlington, NJ 08016-2909
kimkimmie08@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Phylis Rossi <phylisr@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 8:42 PM, Phylis Rossi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Phylis Rossi
115 7th St
Harrison, NJ 07029-2001
phylisr@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Chatten <kschatten@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 8:28 PM, Karen Chatten <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Chatten
199 Pasadena Pl
Hawthorne, NJ 07506-2838
kschatten@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joan Divor <jcd33jersey@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 7:58 PM, Joan Divor <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joan Divor
33 Maison Pl
Voorhees, NJ 08043-4192
jcd33jersey@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Emily Hall <emjhall11@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 7:58 PM, Emily Hall <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Emily Hall
Hall
Montclair, NJ 07042
emjhall11@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: s barbuto <ssbnj313@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 7:58 PM, s barbuto <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

s barbuto
1 Deer Trl
Franklin Lakes, NJ 07417-2700
ssbnj313@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Clive Smith <clivesmith@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 5:58 PM, Clive Smith <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Clive Smith
42 Baltusrol Rd
Summit, NJ 07901-3336
clivesmith@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Betty_Ann Duggan <ykoob@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Wed, Aug 3, 2016 at 5:42 PM, Betty_Ann Duggan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 3, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Betty_Ann Duggan
3 Gordon Way
Princeton, NJ 08540-3925
ykoob@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:11 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:39 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

duffy pappas
119 blueberry rd
charlottesville, VA 22911
duffypappas@gmail.com
(434) 242-1710

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Pamela Black <pamblackny@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Pamela Black <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Pamela Black
12 Pen Bryn Rd
West Orange, NJ 07052-5021
pamblackny@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gina Stiff <uvamomma@x.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Gina Stiff <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gina Stiff
5418 Center Street
VA 23188
uvamomma@x.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Adrian Sawford <adrianunionville@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Adrian Sawford <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Adrian Sawford
913 Buell Ave
Union, NJ 07083-7718
adrianunionville@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nancy Keating <naksf@att.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Nancy Keating <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nancy Keating
1423 Avocado Rd
Oceanside, CA 92054-5703
naksf@att.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Denise Scholz <dababico@ix.netcom.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Denise Scholz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Denise Scholz
229 Prospect Ave
Bayonne, NJ 07002-4719
dababico@ix.netcom.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lynn Merle <rigojancsi@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Lynn Merle <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lynn Merle
529 Maurice River Pkwy
Vineland, NJ 08360-2628
rigojancsi@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Damian Harris <newportsru@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Damian Harris <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Damian Harris
45 Comley Pl
Bloomfield, NJ 07003-2706
newportsru@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Thomas Koven <tomkoven@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Thomas Koven <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Thomas Koven
507 Charlestown Rd
Hampton, NJ 08827-2543
tomkoven@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bernadette Methven <irish_wildflower@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Bernadette Methven <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bernadette Methven
301 S 4th Ave
Highland Park, NJ 08904-2626
irish_wildflower@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Momin Naik <momin.naik@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:43 PM, Momin Naik <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Momin Naik
22 Hanover Ct
Princeton, NJ 08540-7067
momin.naik@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:46 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Cheryl Dzubak
69 Elton Avenue
Yardville, NJ 08620
cadzubak@gmail.com
(609) 585-1506

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:54 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Carlos Porto
71 Portland Pl., Apt 3
Monclair, NJ 07042
carlos.porto@gmail.com
(973) 919-3822

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nancy Lang <spring4njl50@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Nancy Lang <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nancy Lang
3b Lenape Dr
Whiting, NJ 08759-1794
spring4njl50@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Maria Himber <himberfamily@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Maria Himber <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Maria Himber
125 Brakeshoe Place
NJ 07430
himberfamily@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary Lynne Hamilton <mary.lynne.hamilton@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Mary Lynne Hamilton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary Lynne Hamilton
101 Hardenburgh Ave
Demarest, NJ 07627-2109
mary.lynne.hamilton@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eileen Feurey <eileen.feurey@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Eileen Feurey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eileen Feurey
42 Brittin St
NJ 07940
eileen.feurey@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cheryl Dzubak <cadzubak@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Cheryl Dzubak <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cheryl Dzubak
69 Elton Ave
Trenton, NJ 08620-1531
cadzubak@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gilbert Wald <waldgilbert@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Gilbert Wald <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gilbert Wald
534 Foothill Rd
Bridgewater, NJ 08807-2236
waldgilbert@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:15 PM
Subject: Re: We need to be serious about protecting oceans, lakes and rivers. Any plan needs to be clear and concise and include enforcem...
To: Frances Lewis <govlewis@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Frances Lewis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Frances Lewis
1053 Forest Bay Dr
Waterford, MI 48328-4285
govlewis@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Richard Hoffer <dickhoffer@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Richard Hoffer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Richard Hoffer
2210 Pierce Ln
Wharton, NJ 07885-4216
dickhoffer@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Leslie Nagler <lesnag13@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:00 PM, Leslie Nagler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Leslie Nagler
13 Meadow Lks Apt U1
Hightstown, NJ 08520-3321
lesnag13@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:16 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:05 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

barbara murphy
116 Westend Avenue, Unit 18
Freeport, NY 11520
blm21190@yahoo.com
6318049384

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:16 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:06 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you, Travis Maiuro

Sincerely,

Travis Maiuro
4 Roosevelt Ave
Trenton, NJ 08620
travis.maiuro@gmail.com
(609) 468-7329

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:16 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:10 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

I live a couple hundred feet from the Ocean and spent many days in, on and next to it. I therefore am very concerned with proper stewardship. Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But the final plan needs to be specific enough and must significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Michael MacElhiney
5339 Asbury Ave
Ocean City, NJ 08226
mmacelhi@hotmail.com
(917) 349-3844

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:16 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:11 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years. As a surfer in Delaware, cleanliness of the Ocean is a priority. Environmentally sensitive planning is a must if we are to continue to have the top rated beaches in the U.S. Planned outfall projects that pollute our Oceans, like the one in Rehoboth Beach, need to be given better options.

All of the hard work that has been accomplished so far is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you! Matt Clark

Sincerely,

Matt Clark
115 SHADY RIDGE DR
Rehoboth Beach, DE 19971
mclark1234@gmail.com
(302) 569-9234

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Eberhardt <ceber02@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Carol Eberhardt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carol Eberhardt
25 Maple Rd
Iselin, NJ 08830-1517
ceber02@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Springstead <springstead.susan@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Susan Springstead <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Springstead
516 Cedar Ave
Richland, NJ 08350-2442
springstead.susan@yahoo.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Denise Maurer <dmaurer@ets.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Denise Maurer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Denise Maurer
17 Intervale Rd
Trenton, NJ 08620-1544
dmaurer@ets.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Victoria Greaser <pita8@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Victoria Greaser <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Victoria Greaser
96 Richter Rd
Tabernacle, NJ 08088-8857
pita8@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lauren Goldstein <llgoldstein@me.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Lauren Goldstein <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lauren Goldstein
4 Goldenrod Ct
Trenton, NJ 08690-3322
llgoldstein@me.com
From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>

Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary O'Neill <morha200210@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Mary O'Neill <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary O'Neill
35 Albertson Ave
Clementon, NJ 08021-4701
morha200210@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Charles Greaser <sail1975@icloud.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Charles Greaser <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Charles Greaser
96 Richter Rd
Tabernacle, NJ 08088-8857
sail1975@icloud.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gary Dunn <gdunn@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:13 PM, Gary Dunn <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gary Dunn
335 Brighton Ave
Long Branch, NJ 07740-5221
gdunn@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:18 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Susan O'Connor
125 Prospect Park West
Brooklyn, NY 11215
ppwsko@gmail.com
(347) 721-5905

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:19 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:18 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Charles Ferguson Jr
28 East 4th, Apt 5W
New York, NY 10003
cferg32@gmail.com
(516) 474-8319

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:31 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:21 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Michael Bondoc
259 Elizabeth St Apt 4C
New York, NY 10012
mikeybondoc@yahoo.com
7147855717

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:21 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean. I tagged > 7,700 fish in NJ and 240 were recaptured in 11 different states.

Thank you

Sincerely,

George Horvath
105 Liberty Street
Trenton, NJ 08611
georgerhorvath@yahoo.com
(609) 695-5547

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:24 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Judy Whittington
3780 Main Bayview Rd
Southold, NY 11971
halley8596@aol.com
(631) 965-3527

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Andrew Henderson
4809 W. 96th Terr
Overland Park, KS 66207
babadrew77@yahoo.com
(913) 952-4579

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Robert Mereness
4607 White Ibis Ct
Wilmington, NC 28412
rcmsurf@earthlink.net
(703) 400-5824

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:

Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Tim Savage
26 Southgate Ave.
Annapolis, MD 21401
tsavage9@yahoo.com
(443) 223-1371

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: James McCabe <6mus@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, James McCabe <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

James McCabe
88 Manito Rd
Manasquan, NJ 08736-3532
6mus@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rhoda Levine <rhodadir@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Rhoda Levine <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rhoda Levine
18 E 8th St
New York, NY 10003-5918
rhodadir@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nancy Chambers <njhomes4u@icloud.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Nancy Chambers <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nancy Chambers
64 Haddon Ave
Gibbsboro, NJ 08026-1008
njhomes4u@icloud.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tom Caine <tom@caineassociates.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Tom Caine <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tom Caine
59 Fieldstone Dr
Basking Ridge, NJ 07920-1605
tom@caineassociates.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Merki <bandbmerki@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Elizabeth Merki <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Merki
22 Myrtle Ave
Millville, NJ 08332-9604
bandbmerki@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Jonas <ynoke@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Robert Jonas <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Jonas
55 Otterhole Rd
West Milford, NJ 07480-4119
ynoke@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bettina Machado <machadobettina@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Bettina Machado <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bettina Machado
4070 Hampton St
Elmhurst, NY 11373-2071
machadobettina@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Peter Schofield Schofield <pschofield321@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Peter Schofield Schofield <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Peter Schofield Schofield
310 E Webster Ave
NJ 07204
pschofield321@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barbara Darvin <babuda888@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Barbara Darvin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barbara Darvin
88 Belle Glades Ln
Belle Mead, NJ 08502-4524
babuda888@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jill Vickers <jill.a.alloway@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Jill Vickers <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jill Vickers
409 Wisconsin Trl
Browns Mills, NJ 08015-5621
jill.a.alloway@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Vivian Caramanna <vcaramanna@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Vivian Caramanna <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Vivian Caramanna
47 Vincent Pl
Nutley, NJ 07110-2771
vcaramanna@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: sylvia dombey pearl <sdombey2@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, sylvia dombey pearl <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

sylvia dombey pearl
658 Ridgewood Rd
Maplewood, NJ 07040-2536
sdombey2@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:35 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Anthony Mongeluzo
26990 wood duck road
Millsboro, DE 19966
monge737@gmail.com
8562976048

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:35 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:34 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Colleen Gutwein
73 grove st
Montclair, NJ 07042
colleengutwein@gmail.com
(908) 635-3407

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Anita Hull <anita_hull@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Anita Hull <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Anita Hull
PO Box 65
Hardy, VA 24101-0065
anita_hull@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ibn Abbasparker <mubarak0512@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Ibn Abbasparker <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ibn Abbasparker
11 John St
Sayreville, NJ 08872-1523
mubarak0512@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Corinne White <pickles831@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Corinne White <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Corinne White
316 Echelon Rd
Voorhees, NJ 08043-2433
pickles831@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Russell Donnelly <irsd7@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Russell Donnelly <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Russell Donnelly
2114 Oak Rd
Baltimore, MD 21219-2214
irsd7@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joyce Siegmeister <joycesiegmeister@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Joyce Siegmeister <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joyce Siegmeister
PO Box 572
Blairstown, NJ 07825-0572
joycesiegmeister@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:11 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:40 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

I support strong protections for our beaches and ocean. Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Angela Plagge
59 Rt 47 N
Cape May Court House, NJ 08210
angela.plagge@gmail.com
6094638387

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:11 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:38 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jerry Rivers
8-Gombert place,
Roosevelt, NY 11575
jerry.rivers13@yahoo.com
(516) 670-4461

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jerome Brandt <brandtjc@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Jerome Brandt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jerome Brandt
1113 Pacific Ave
Beachwood, NJ 08722-4415
brandtjc@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Maranda <justakidathrt@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Susan Maranda <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Maranda
729 Sugarcreek Trl
Webster, NY 14580-2452
justakidathrt@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:11 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:36 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Scott Tidwell
38506 Velta Drive
Ocean View, DE 19970
big_s_vt@yahoo.com
(301) 266-3149

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lisa Weisberg <lisa.weisberg@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, Lisa Weisberg <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lisa Weisberg
404 E 79th St
New York, NY 10075-1466
lisa.weisberg@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tajeer Robinson <tajerrobinson@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Tajeer Robinson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tajeer Robinson
26 Rhode Island Ave
East Orange, NJ 07018-2727
tajerrobinson@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sarah Dolinar <sdolinar57@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Sarah Dolinar <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sarah Dolinar
409 St Pauls Ave
Staten Island, NY 10304-2127
sdolinar57@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Geralynn Esposito <g.tinkerbell@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Geralynn Esposito <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Geralynn Esposito
30 Mabie Street
Hamburg, NJ 07419-1133
g.tinkerbell@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Maggs <sleepysoozie1@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Susan Maggs <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Maggs
312 Laurel Ln
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-9622
sleepysoozie1@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ruth Boroshok <njgram6@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Ruth Boroshok <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ruth Boroshok
174 Summit Ave
Summit, NJ 07901-2938
njgram6@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:12 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:45 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Darcy O'Brien
45 Wall Street Apt 719
New York, NY 10005
darcyobrien7@gmail.com
9085911073

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Craig Morgan <cmorgan08108@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:43 PM, Craig Morgan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Craig Morgan
73 Stratford Ave
Haddon Township, NJ 08108-2324
cmorgan08108@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Evan Hammond
280 9th Street, 2nd Floor
Brooklyn, NY 11215
evanzane@gmail.com
(845) 826-3432

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:55 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kate May
403 E 73rd St, 2D
New York, NY 10021
k.mayflowers@gmail.com
(609) 992-7221

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:56 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Edward Butler
36 E 69th St
New York, NY 10021
epb223@gmail.com
(347) 266-1760

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:58 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Laura Smith
5650 Spinnaker Drive
Salisbury, MD 21801
lauraestaline@hotmail.com
(443) 520-1888

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Fila <rfila13479@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, Robert Fila <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Fila
341 Woodlake Dr
Marlton, NJ 08053-3609
rfila13479@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:14 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Marianne Kislowski
1701 Ocean Ave. Apt 23E
Asbury Park, NJ 07712
kizmiz@optimum.net
7323616528

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: jean public <jeanpublic1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, jean public <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

jean public not availble
flemington, NJ 08822
jeanpublic1@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Melanie Murphy <buckeyefannj@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, Melanie Murphy <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Melanie Murphy
63 Edison Rd
Cherry Hill, NJ 08034-2608
buckeyefannj@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nicholas Marton <nlm5858@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, Nicholas Marton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nicholas Marton
3513 Church Rd
Cherry Hill, NJ 08002-1044
nlm5858@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Erin Lynch <erindl@live.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, Erin Lynch <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Erin Lynch
2111 Sagemore Dr
Marlton, NJ 08053-4313
erindl@live.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: j Zichello <jzichel2@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, j Zichello <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

JZichello
125 Wykagyl Terrace
New Rochelle NY 10804

Sincerely.

j Zichello
125 Wykagyl Ter
New Rochelle, NY 10804-3108
jzichel2@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barbara Halpern <beadedreams@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, Barbara Halpern <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barbara Halpern
2446 Harding Hwy
Newfield, NJ 08344-5104
beadedreams@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Helene Weiss <ward-tina@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, Helene Weiss <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Helene Weiss
35 Roosevelt Rd
Whitehouse Station, NJ 08889-3031
ward-tina@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carolyn Ricketts <clynnline@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, Carolyn Ricketts <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. OUR REGION'S OCEAN IS ALSO AN ECONOMIC POWERHOUSE, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I APPLAUD THE RPB ON ITS WORK TO COMPLETE THIS FIRST-EVER DRAFT OCEAN ACTION PLAN. I HOPE YOU WILL INCORPORATE THESE RECOMMENDATIONS BELOW THAT WILL MAKE THIS PLAN STRONGER AND MORE REFLECTIVE OF ME, AS AN OCEAN USER AND COASTAL CITIZEN.

THE FINAL OCEAN ACTION PLAN MUST:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

WITH THESE ADDITIONS TO THE PLAN, I KNOW OUR REGION WILL TAKE A BIG STEP FORWARD TOWARD A HEALTHIER ATLANTIC OCEAN.

Sincerely.

Carolyn Ricketts
207 Riverside Rd
Edgewater, MD 21037-1507
clynnline@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: rebecca levinson <rebeccatones@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, rebecca levinson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

rebecca levinson
332 E 6th St
New York, NY 10003-8717
rebeccatones@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joan Oconnell <brianandjoan87d@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, Joan Oconnell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joan Oconnell
87 Dorchester dr
Lakewood, NJ 08701
brianandjoan87d@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Francisco Dacosta <fmdacosta@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, Francisco Dacosta <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Francisco Dacosta
9 Hinsdale Ln
Willingboro, NJ 08046-1208
fmdacosta@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:31 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Virginia Breza <jinybreza@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, Virginia Breza <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Virginia Breza
383 Green Ln
Ewing, NJ 08638-1720
jinybreza@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Galen Trembath <gewt@nyc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, Galen Trembath <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Galen Trembath
4751 40th St Apt 2h
Long Island City, NY 11104-4033
gewt@nyc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Dana W. Tobin" <dwt221@dkbbs.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, Dana W. Tobin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dana W. Tobin
223 E Upsal St
Philadelphia, PA 19119-2346
dwt221@dkbbs.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Takash <info@edisongreenways.org>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, Robert Takash <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Takash
27 Park Way
Edison, NJ 08817-5328
info@edisongreenways.org

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathleen Maher <catmmaher@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, Kathleen Maher <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathleen Maher
1201 Evergreen Ave
Ocean, NJ 07712-4516
catmmaher@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Stephen Phillips
801 Yale Ave
Swarthmore, PA 19081
drstevep19707@yahoo.com
(302) 293-2197

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:40 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:39 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Joan Slowey Dellett
910 Eighteenth Avenue
Belmar, NJ 07719
jsdellett@optonline.net
(732) 616-5697

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mary Derstine <boomerace567@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:43 PM, Mary Derstine <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mary Derstine
14 Birch Rd
Kinnelon, NJ 07405-2505
boomerace567@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:56 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Krieger <kskrieger@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:43 PM, Karen Krieger <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Krieger
13 Wycoff Way E
East Brunswick, NJ 08816-5626
kskrieger@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:59 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

shira m
2268 35th street
New York, NY 11105
somuch2kno@aol.com
111-111-1111

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Margaret Daley <mdaley730@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM, Margaret Daley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Margaret Daley
665 Cedar Run Dock Rd
West Creek, NJ 08092-9764
mdaley730@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:03 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joan Smolen <rjsmolen@optimum.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM, Joan Smolen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joan Smolen
13 Mandeville Ave
Pequannock, NJ 07440-1534
rjsmolen@optimum.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Deborah Visalli <bandanas@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM, Deborah Visalli <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Deborah Visalli
215n6th
Wildwood, NJ 08260
bandanas@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Kite <jibboscarol@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM, Carol Kite <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carol Kite
1856 Clay Hill Rd
Chittenango, NY 13037-9505
jibboscarol@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:04 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Thomas Gillen <tg59@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM, Thomas Gillen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Thomas Gillen
55 Price St
Sayreville, NJ 08872-1645
tg59@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Smith <elliealice@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM, Karen Smith <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Smith
32 Stony Brook Rd
Rockaway, NJ 07866-1729
elliealice@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:05 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Edwin Keefe <edwink3@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:00 PM, Edwin Keefe <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Edwin Keefe
7 Marlin nRoad
Old Bridge, NJ 08857
edwink3@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:25 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:11 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Deanna List
168 shore drive, oakdale, ny
Oakdale, NY 11769
deanna.list@gmail.com
(516) 870-4618

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:26 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Donna Pfeffer
429 S. Seaview Avenue
Absecon, NJ 08205
donnie0223@aol.com
(609) 432-7660

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Elizabeth Erskine <gracie643@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Elizabeth Erskine <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Elizabeth Erskine
34 McFadden Dr
Monroe Twp, NJ 08831-2416
gracie643@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carolyn Petermann <cjpetermann@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Carolyn Petermann <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carolyn Petermann
1193 Market St
Gloucester City, NJ 08030-1849
cjpetermann@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joseph Pierson <mrpierson@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Joseph Pierson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joseph Pierson
817 Spar Dr
Forked River, NJ 08731-3028
mrpierson@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Debra Schlegel <dacas97@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Debra Schlegel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Debra Schlegel
582 Route 376
Hopewell Jct, NY 12533-3108
dacas97@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Vera Oliveira <veranyoka@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Vera Oliveira <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Vera Oliveira
154 Schley Ave
Albertson, NY 11507-1736
veranyoka@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "MR. & Mrs. Bruce Revesz" <nogbrutrpt@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, MR. & Mrs. Bruce Revesz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

MR. & Mrs. Bruce Revesz
103 The Fairway
Cedar Grove, NJ 07009-1515
nogbrutrpt@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: David Hall <david.hall@einstein.yu.edu>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, David Hall <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

David Hall
4 Cavell Pl
West Caldwell, NJ 07006-7902
david.hall@einstein.yu.edu

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lascinda Goetschius <lascindag@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Lascinda Goetschius <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lascinda Goetschius
7-07 5th St
Fair Lawn, NJ 07410-1498
lascindag@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Hogan Dwyer <hjdwyer@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Hogan Dwyer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Hogan Dwyer
297 Redmond Rd
South Orange, NJ 07079-1504
hjdwyer@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Daniel J. Shields" <dshields888@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:13 PM, Daniel J. Shields <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Daniel J. Shields
31 Myrtle Ave
Keansburg, NJ 07734-1545
dshields888@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Marcia Shomo <masho@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Marcia Shomo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Marcia Shomo
407 Danielle Dr
Linwood, NJ 08221-1230
masho@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kate Cronauer <kate.cronauer@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Kate Cronauer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kate Cronauer
34 Coventry Way
Ringwood, NJ 07456-2748
kate.cronauer@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kurt Vollherbst <kurtskourts@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Kurt Vollherbst <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kurt Vollherbst
292 Pennington Harbourton Rd
Pennington, NJ 08534-4007
kurtskourts@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Anthony DeVoto <tdevoto@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Anthony DeVoto <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Anthony DeVoto
77 White Rock Blvd
Oak Ridge, NJ 07438-9570
tdevoto@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: lindy friedman <lindyfriedman@mac.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, lindy friedman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

lindy friedman
42 Caton Pl
Brooklyn, NY 11218-1808
lindyfriedman@mac.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:08 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mark Kaminer <markkaminer@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Mark Kaminer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mark Kaminer
26 Pocahontas Trl
Medford, NJ 08055-8102
markkaminer@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Menafra <amenafra1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Ann Menafra <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Menafra
24 Stratton Rd
Matawan, NJ 07747-6831
amenafra1@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Anthony Cekada <acekada@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Anthony Cekada <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Anthony Cekada
1305 Loretta Ave
Mays Landing, NJ 08330-1414
acekada@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Nicholas DiPetrillo <nickjd6694@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, Nicholas DiPetrillo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Nicholas DiPetrillo
1246 Wildwood Ter
Union, NJ 07083-7030
nickjd6694@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Coen <susancoen@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, Susan Coen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Coen
132 Hillside Rd
Elizabeth, NJ 07208-1102
susancoen@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:09 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Ruhl <jhn_ruhl@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, John Ruhl <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Ruhl
16 Joe Ent Rd
Flemington, NJ 08822-5600
jhn_ruhl@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Robert Minnick <robsm13@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, Robert Minnick <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Robert Minnick
21 Goldsmith Ave
Greenlawn, NY 11740-3111
robsm13@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dorothy Tuzi <doti114@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, Dorothy Tuzi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dorothy Tuzi
114 Laurel Ave
Sicklerville, NJ 08081-5102
doti114@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jody Welsh <jodyawelsh@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, Jody Welsh <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jody Welsh
160 2nd Ave
Long Branch, NJ 07740-6647
jodyawelsh@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:10 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: George Grant <canoecr@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, George Grant <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

George Grant
94 Bonaire Dr
Toms River, NJ 08757-3804
canoecr@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jen Scibetta <bebebird6@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, Jen Scibetta <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jen Scibetta
40 Ravenswood Ter
Cheektowaga, NY 14225-1145
bebebird6@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jen Scibetta <bebebird6@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, Jen Scibetta <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jen Scibetta
40 Ravenswood Ter
Cheektowaga, NY 14225-1145
bebebird6@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carl Oerke Jr <carl_oerke@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, Carl Oerke Jr <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carl Oerke Jr
264 Lexington Dr
River Edge, NJ 07661-1006
carl_oerke@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Andrew Astalos <circleovfyre@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, Andrew Astalos <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Andrew Astalos
401b Picardy Ct
Lakewood, NJ 08701-6744
circleovfyre@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Frank Giliberti <vodoomanq@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, Frank Giliberti <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Frank Giliberti
23 Mansfield Dr
Massapequa Park, NY 11762-4033
vodoomanq@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: jennie sabato <jenniesabato@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, jennie sabato <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

jennie sabato
206 phila av
somers point, NJ 08244
jenniesabato@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:11 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Joanne Grossi <joanneg17@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, Joanne Grossi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Joanne Grossi
85 Enclave Blvd
Lakewood, NJ 08701-5788
joanneg17@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Suzanne Kirby <skirby3215@gamil.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, Suzanne Kirby <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Suzanne Kirby
15 Baldwin Dr
Sag Harbor, NY 11963-1231
skirby3215@gamil.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lisa Conner <maryconner153@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, Lisa Conner <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lisa Conner
153 Riggins Blvd
Woodbury, NJ 08096-1822
maryconner153@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Russ Cohen <russellcohen94@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:00 PM, Russ Cohen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Russ Cohen
PO Box 811
Glassboro, NJ 08028-0811
russellcohen94@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Takako Ishii-Kiefer <takiishii@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:14 PM, Takako Ishii-Kiefer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Takako Ishii-Kiefer
11 Winter Pl
Aberdeen, NJ 07747-1820
takiishii@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:12 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jenbillmorris@msn.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:58 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jennifer Morris
162 Jackson St
Matawan, NJ 07747
jenbillmorris@msn.com
(732) 765-9371

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jackiebain10@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:55 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jackie Bain
368 W 4th St.
Beach Haven, NJ 08008
jackiebain10@gmail.com
(609) 494-8072

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: kerralt@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:51 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kerry Altman
6012 Balsam Drive
McLean, VA 22101
kerralt@aol.com
(703) 691-1571

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Anuradha M Hansen <anuhansen8@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:44 PM, Anuradha M Hansen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Anuradha M Hansen
29 Kings Ct
Fort Lee, NJ 07024-1806
anuhansen8@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Richard Staten <yukonrich8@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:44 PM, Richard Staten <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Richard Staten
560 Sanford Ave Apt 1
Newark, NJ 07106-2530
yukonrich8@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: David Davis <dadavis7@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:44 PM, David Davis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

David Davis
3015 Riverdale Ave
Bronx, NY 10463-3608
dadavis7@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Carl Oerke Jr <carl_oerke@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:44 PM, Carl Oerke Jr <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Carl Oerke Jr
264 Lexington Dr
River Edge, NJ 07661-1006
carl_oerke@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: julia c <jcranmer3@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:44 PM, julia c <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

julia c rt 206
Southampton, NJ 08088
jcranmer3@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Daniel Reynolds <reynoldsdpr@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:44 PM, Daniel Reynolds <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Daniel Reynolds
36 Farm Rd
Ewing, NJ 08638-1428
reynoldsdpr@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Stephen Kelleher <srkelleher@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:44 PM, Stephen Kelleher <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Stephen Kelleher
55 Bentley Dr
Franklin Lakes, NJ 07417-1941
srkelleher@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:16 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: chasgilliam@verizon.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:33 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Charles Gilliam
31 Pelham Hill Road
Shutesbury, MA 01072
chasgilliam@verizon.net
4132591090

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathy Chinigo <hk1210@optimum.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, Kathy Chinigo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathy Chinigo
756 Walnut St
Paramus, NJ 07652-3723
hk1210@optimum.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: darin thorn <darinthorn@email.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, darin thorn <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

darin thorn
128 Pheasant Ct
Marlton, NJ 08053-1406
darinthorn@email.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rose Tod <riveter39@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, Rose Tod <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rose Tod
100 Pointers Auburn Rd
Pedricktown, NJ 08067-3020
riveter39@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sandra Sobanski <dragonsandy1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, Sandra Sobanski <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sandra Sobanski
140 E 2nd St
Brooklyn, NY 11218-1447
dragonsandy1@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Harbal Sidhu <harbalsidhu@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, Harbal Sidhu <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Harbal Sidhu
14 Cayuga Rd
Bordentown, NJ 08505-4411
harbalsidhu@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Schreiber <jfschreib@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, John Schreiber <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Schreiber
4471 Nottingham Way
Hamilton, NJ 08690-3815
jfschreib@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Terry Friedman <terry.belnay@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, Terry Friedman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Terry Friedman
10 Belnay Ln
Montvale, NJ 07645-1114
terry.belnay@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: phyllis kopec <ptorpey@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, phyllis kopec <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

phyllis kopec
238 I St
Penns Grove, NJ 08069-2114
ptorpey@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia MCMANUS <par_dun9@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:30 PM, Patricia MCMANUS <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia MCMANUS
3B
Troy, NY 12180
par_dun9@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:18 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: mishcarlscott@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:16 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Michelle-Marie Scott
2224 N 200 E Provo UT
Provo, UT 84604
mishcarlscott@gmail.com
(757) 615-7461

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gary Lindsay <glindsay72@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:14 PM, Gary Lindsay <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gary Lindsay
31 Kishpaugh Rd
Blairstown, NJ 07825-9346
glindsay72@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Paul Dougherty <pmd8a@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:14 PM, Paul Dougherty <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Paul Dougherty
61 Bergen Blvd
Palisades Pk, NJ 07650-1973
pmd8a@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eileen Broderick <brodere@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:14 PM, Eileen Broderick <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eileen Broderick
569 Bellview Ave
Clayton, NJ 08312-2201
brodere@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Phyllis Kessler <dolldoll@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:14 PM, Phyllis Kessler <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Phyllis Kessler
2 Sunlight Springs Rd
Lakewood, NJ 08701-7531
dolldoll@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:19 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jmonaco@unet2.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

SUPPORT SURFRIDER Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

James Monaco
84 Mount Misery Drive
Sag Harbor, NY 11963
jmonaco@unet2.net
(631) 725-9513

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:20 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: b_mess79@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Regards, Bryan Messick

Sincerely,

Bryan Messick
5 Tall Oaks Drive
Hockessin, DE 19707
b_mess79@yahoo.com
(302) 384-3556

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:20 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: lsull71@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Lewis Sullivan
2657 Fernwood ave
Abington, PA 19001
lsull71@gmail.com
(215) 360-7446

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:20 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Daryl Lucas <daryl340@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, Daryl Lucas <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Daryl Lucas
55 Pierhead Dr
Barnegat, NJ 08005-3365
daryl340@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:20 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: robert dowling <juliebob47@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, robert dowling <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

robert dowling
1281 Edison Ave
Bronx, NY 10461-6156
juliebob47@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:20 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Terry Klotz <okenpi@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, Terry Klotz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Terry Klotz
21 Louis St
Little Ferry, NJ 07643-2017
okenpi@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Karen Rubino <rubino113@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, Karen Rubino <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Karen Rubino
113 Iceland Dr
Huntington Station, NY 11746-4231
rubino113@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: George Pizzio <georgepizzio@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, George Pizzio <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

George Pizzio
1230 Hornberger Ave
Roebling, NJ 08554-1606
georgepizzio@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cathy loewenstein <langpath@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, Cathy loewenstein <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cathy loewenstein
2 Greenmeadow Dr
Babylon, NY 11702-2300
langpath@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Susan Jacob <jcb_ssn@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 8:00 PM, Susan Jacob <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Susan Jacob
4 Montauk Ave
Rockville Centre, NY 11570-5005
jcb_ssn@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:21 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: pleahyjr@hotmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:57 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! I commend your hard work and commitment to listening to a native of the barrier islands of NJ and others like me in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough. Without specifics, loopholes are created for those that just care about profit margins and those who are short sighted about taking care of the environment for future generations. What good is all the planning if doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you, Patrick Leahy

Sincerely,

Patrick Leahy
2722 Jacqueline Dr Apt. M24
Wilmington, DE 19810
pleahyjr@hotmail.com
(484) 574-0096

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:22 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jcordisco@hotmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:57 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you, jcordisco

Sincerely,

Joseph Cordisco
340 Sicomac Ave
Wyckoff, NJ 07481
jcordisco@hotmail.com
(917) 647-4428

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:22 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gudrun Weinberg <gudrunw@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:44 PM, Gudrun Weinberg <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gudrun Weinberg
801 Yale Ave Apt 1217
Swarthmore, PA 19081-1813
gudrunw@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:22 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: bceconi@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:42 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Bill Ceconi
308 Springwood Ct. NE
Vienna, VA 22180
bceconi@gmail.com
(703) 407-8061

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:23 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Philip J. Hyun" <phmech2@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:44 PM, Philip J. Hyun <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Philip J. Hyun
25 Bennington Dr
Edison, NJ 08820-1639
phmech2@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:23 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jkeelan@sc.rr.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:32 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Keelan
904 edgebrook dr.
Toms River, NJ 08757
jkeelan@sc.rr.com
(843) 637-1314

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:23 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Keith Hankowsky <khankowsky@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:32 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Keith Hankowsky
7201 Wayne Ave
Philadelphia, PA 19119
khankowsky@gmail.com
2672101403

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:23 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Keith Hankowsky <khankowsky@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:32 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Keith Hankowsky
7201 Wayne Ave
Philadelphia, PA 19119
khankowsky@gmail.com
2672101403

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:24 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Katy Fischer <kifischer@embarqmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:30 PM, Katy Fischer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Katy Fischer
4 Franklin Ln
Sussex, NJ 07461-0309
kifischer@embarqmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:24 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: getsharkware@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:23 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Leslie Sharlock
128 West Liberty Rd
Slippery Rock, PA 16057
getsharkware@aol.com
7245041047

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:24 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: randylewismoore@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:19 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean. There is nothing better than a visit from PA to the shore. It what I look forward to every year and it 'resets' my peacefulness.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Randy Moore
950 Corporation St
Beaver, PA 15009
randylewismoore@yahoo.com
7247740570

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:24 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: K Suzanne Parsons <ksparsons2@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:13 PM, K Suzanne Parsons <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

K Suzanne Parsons
23 Snydertown Rd
Hopewell, NJ 08525-2706
ksparsons2@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kim Toomey <ktoomey@twcny.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:13 PM, Kim Toomey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kim Toomey
375 Hurley Rd
Brasher Falls, NY 13613-4220
ktoomey@twcny.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ruth Kram <ruthkram@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:13 PM, Ruth Kram <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ruth Kram
111 Coccio Dr
West Orange, NJ 07052-4119
ruthkram@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ruth Kram <ruthkram@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:13 PM, Ruth Kram <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ruth Kram
111 Coccio Dr
West Orange, NJ 07052-4119
ruthkram@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dyanne Powell <ennaydaxe@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:13 PM, Dyanne Powell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dyanne Powell
PO Box 1274
Piscataway, NJ 08855-1274
ennaydaxe@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sherrill Faunce <scfaunce@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:13 PM, Sherrill Faunce <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sherrill Faunce
520 E 2nd St
Moorestown, NJ 08057-3004
scfaunce@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Janet Katsanos <janets110@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:00 PM, Janet Katsanos <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Janet Katsanos
185 Winooska Trl
Medford Lakes, NJ 08055-1321
janets110@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Tracy Foster <tarzafeen@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:00 PM, Tracy Foster <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Tracy Foster
290 Steelmanville Rd
Egg Harbor Township, NJ 08234-7806
tarzafeen@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Charles Reen <chasreen@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:00 PM, Charles Reen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Charles Reen
4 Birchwood Dr
Medford, NJ 08055-9233
chasreen@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Anastasia Hanifan <staciehanifan@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 7:00 PM, Anastasia Hanifan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Anastasia Hanifan
35 Glenbrook Rd
Hicksville, NY 11801-4836
staciehanifan@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: David Amrod <bendybubble@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:43 PM, David Amrod <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

David Amrod
3171 River Knoll Dr N Apt 1805
Baldwinsville, NY 13027-6343
bendybubble@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:26 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: sawdon@msn.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Rosemarie Sawdon
100 Elderberry lane
Rougemont, NC 27572
sawdon@msn.com
(336) 364-0386

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Daniel Jeffrey <danjeff@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:43 PM, Daniel Jeffrey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Daniel Jeffrey
9 Pearl St
Allentown, NJ 08501-1647
danjeff@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sibylle Herzer <billimaus@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:43 PM, Sibylle Herzer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sibylle Herzer
39 Church St
Flemington, NJ 08822-1628
billimaus@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Pamela Kerr <pammkerr@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:43 PM, Pamela Kerr <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Pamela Kerr
49 Worman Rd
Stockton, NJ 08559-1612
pammkerr@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sarah Roberts <kops-and-robs@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:43 PM, Sarah Roberts <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

We have dead zones in the Atlantic Ocean, up and down the coast, and the new plan must address them, and commit to action to clean them up and bring them back to their original diverse life.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sarah Roberts
48 Harlingen Rd
Belle Mead, NJ 08502-5301
kops-and-robs@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:27 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Margaret C. McHugh" <mcmchugh60@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:43 PM, Margaret C. McHugh <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Margaret C. McHugh
31 Sagamore Trl
Sparta, NJ 07871-1511
mcmchugh60@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:28 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Patricia Packer <pattiac@nycsp.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:43 PM, Patricia Packer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Patricia Packer
5 Jennifer Rd
Scotia, NY 12302-3905
pattiac@nycsp.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:28 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Sandra Sobanski <dragonsandy1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:40 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Sandra Sobanski
140 E 2nd Street
Brooklyn, NY 11218
dragonsandy1@yahoo.com
(212) 683-2173

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: dawn turner <dturner29@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:30 PM, dawn turner <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

dawn turner
2940 Old Elk Neck Rd
Elkton, MD 21921-6941
dturner29@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Davison <linda_helen48@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:30 PM, Linda Davison <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Davison
106 Featherbed Ln
Stockton, NJ 08559-1216
linda_helen48@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Viola Markus <violam98@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:30 PM, Viola Markus <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Viola Markus
98 Featherbed Ln
Stockton, NJ 08559-1215
violam98@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: elewisny@netzero.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Erma Lewis
1736 63 Street
Brooklyn, NY 11204
elewisny@netzero.com
(646) 368-7513

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:29 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sterling & Louise Proffitt <scproffitt@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:13 PM, Sterling & Louise Proffitt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sterling & Louise Proffitt
3795 Whitetail Ln
Keswick, VA 22947-9361
scproffitt@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Phyllis Garr <walkswim@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:13 PM, Phyllis Garr <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Phyllis Garr
20 Vernon Rd
Marlboro, NJ 07746-1379
walkswim@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:30 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Judith Tully <judemorningstar@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:13 PM, Judith Tully <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Judith Tully
10 Morning Star Rd
Flemington, NJ 08822-7196
judemorningstar@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jill Melveger <jillybee@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:00 PM, Jill Melveger <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jill Melveger
9 Patrick Ct
Flanders, NJ 07836-9729
jillybee@optonline.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Betty Abrams <mobear2@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:00 PM, Betty Abrams <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Betty Abrams
201 Commonwealth Ave
New Providence, NJ 07974-1714
mobear2@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:32 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Vincent Gibbons <illwork@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:00 PM, Vincent Gibbons <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Vincent Gibbons
2 Rustic Dr
North Brunswick, NJ 08902-4702
illwork@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Shay R <puppy17@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:00 PM, Shay R <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Shay R
1625 Woodland Dr
Williamstown, NJ 08094-3381
puppy17@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: TMy comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gina Long <jl01husky@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, Gina Long <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gina Long
13 Phillip E Frank Way
Cliffwood, NJ 07721-1197
jl01husky@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jessica Correa <jessica.correa30@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, Jessica Correa <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jessica Correa
819 Lafayette Ave
Union, NJ 07083-6718
jessica.correa30@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eydie Grossi <eydsgrossi@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, Eydie Grossi <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eydie Grossi
92 Charles St
Bayville, NJ 08721-3006
eydsgrossi@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Harry Hudson <harryhudsonjr@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, Harry Hudson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Harry Hudson
303 E Sweetbriar Rd
Wildwood, NJ 08260-4129
harryhudsonjr@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:33 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Margaret C Mchugh <mcmchugh60@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, Margaret C Mchugh <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Margaret C Mchugh
31 Sagamore Trl
Sparta, NJ 07871-1511
mcmchugh60@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Louis Chorba <lchrba@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, Louis Chorba <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Louis Chorba
234 Lowell Ave
Hamilton, NJ 08619-2528
lchrba@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Louis Ginsburg <louisginsburg@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, Louis Ginsburg <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Louis Ginsburg
177 Briarwood Dr
Cape May, NJ 08204-3862
louisginsburg@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: ravynsdaughter@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:43 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Mikki Chalker
119 Prospect St
Binghamton, NY 13905
ravynsdaughter@aol.com
(607) 771-6892

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: rumsonhomes@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:37 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Susan McLaughlin
186 Broad St
Red Bank, NJ 07701
rumsonhomes@aol.com
7327681068

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:34 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kristi Tustin <katustin@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:30 PM, Kristi Tustin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kristi Tustin
1202 Clements Bridge Rd
Barrington, NJ 08007-1652
katustin@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Cornelius FitzPatrick <corneliusfitzpatrick@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:30 PM, Cornelius FitzPatrick <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Cornelius FitzPatrick
309
Westfield, NJ 07090
corneliusfitzpatrick@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Sharon Harper <sharper38@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:30 PM, Sharon Harper <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Sharon Harper
8 Danielle Ct
Lawrenceville, NJ 08648-1449
sharper38@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Frank <frank609@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:00 PM, Linda Frank <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Frank
302 Greenwood Ave
Riverside, NJ 08075-4214
frank609@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "MR. & Mrs. Bruce Revesz" <nogbrutrpt@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:30 PM, MR. & Mrs. Bruce Revesz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

MR. & Mrs. Bruce Revesz
103 The Fairway
Cedar Grove, NJ 07009-1515
nogbrutrpt@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:35 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bettina Hempel <bettinahempel@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:30 PM, Bettina Hempel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bettina Hempel
300 Frances St
Teaneck, NJ 07666-3416
bettinahempel@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Terese Buchanan <achyacres@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:30 PM, Terese Buchanan <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Terese Buchanan
156 Lower Creek Rd
Stockton, NJ 08559-1615
achyacres@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: JOHN PATTERSON <jpmony@juno.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:30 PM, JOHN PATTERSON <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

JOHN PATTERSON
184 Helen St
Binghamton, NY 13905-3440
jpmony@juno.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Teresa Petersen <terepetersen@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:00 PM, Teresa Petersen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Teresa Petersen
7427 Boulevard East
North Bergen, NJ 07047-5944
terepetersen@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Deborah Cate <dfcate@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:00 PM, Deborah Cate <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Deborah Cate
2499 N 50th St
Philadelphia, PA 19131-1431
dfcate@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:36 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: gdhmetal@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 6:03 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Debbie Slack
418 Jefferson Dr
Lynchburg, VA 24502
gdhmetal@aol.com
(434) 239-1234

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Barbara Morrison <fbmorrison@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:44 PM, Barbara Morrison <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Barbara Morrison
6 Cable Ct
Montville, NJ 07045-9411
fbmorrison@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 2:07 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: charles davidson <charlesldavidson@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:31 PM, charles davidson <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

charles davidson
59 Cherry Tree Farm Rd
Middletown, NJ 07748-2203
charlesldavidson@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:28 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Pam Scoville <michael799@optonline.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

P Scoville
PO Box 153, Hewitt, NJ
Hewitt, NJ 07421
michael799@optonline.net
(000) 000-0000

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:29 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: pureboardshopmd@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Robby Roberts
1908 Forest Drive
Annapolis, MD 21401
pureboardshopmd@gmail.com
4102677669

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:30 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jetstar@luckymail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Fielek
10 Tudor Court
Brick, NJ 08723
jetstar@luckymail.com
(732) 539-3194

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:30 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: brian kahan <bkahan@thekahancenter.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:41 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Brian Kahan
2002 medical parkway
Annapolis, MD 21401
bkahan@thekahancenter.com
(410) 571-9000

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:31 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: bleachfish1@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:47 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Tyler Sheldon
249 main st apt 6
Bridgewater, MA 02324
bleachfish1@gmail.com
(978) 502-7388

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:32 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: hopecarr@ix.netcom.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:48 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

I appreciate your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like me in shaping the ocean planning process for the last three years.

I urge you to make the final plan specific enough to improve how our oceans are managed. To that end, please use all of the data now available to you to delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. This information will be invaluable for the siting of future projects like offshore wind farms.

We have a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Hope Carr
385 85th Street
Brooklyn, NY 11209
hopecarr@ix.netcom.com
(718) 748-2113

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:33 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: scprintz1950@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:02 PM, MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov> wrote:
Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:45 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Stephen Printz
12 Black Oak Mews
Newtown, PA 18940
scprintz1950@gmail.com
(215) 208-2065

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:34 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: mcpuzio@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:48 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Michael Puzio
2622 Tremley Pt. Rd.
Linden, NJ 07036
mcpuzio@gmail.com
9084948448

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:34 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: seth.ayers@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:49 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Seth Ayers
4616 Morgan Drive
Chevy Chase, MD 20815
seth.ayers@gmail.com
(301) 652-2715

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:35 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: bwilliams@pmenv.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:49 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Bill Williams
1706 bay ave
Point Pleasant Beach, NJ 08742
bwilliams@pmenv.com
7329487485

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:35 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: suzanne.ito@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:44 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Suzanne Ito
1825 Foster Ave.
Brooklyn, NY 11230
suzanne.ito@gmail.com
(718) 577-1028

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:36 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: cristine0530@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:44 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Cristine Landicho
361 juniper cout
Herndon, VA 20170
cristine0530@gmail.com
(703) 437-0410

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:37 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: kate.sweeney@ms.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

kate sweeney
18 hiram square
New Brunswick, NJ 08901
kate.sweeney@ms.com
(732) 435-2248

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:37 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: walt@navcongrp.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Walter Huresky
319 Sycamore Ave
Shrewsbury, NJ 07702
walt@navcongrp.com
9083099593

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:38 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Denise Lyle <centauress6@live.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:53 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Denise Lytle
11 Wisteria Dr., Apt. 3F
Woodbridge Township, NJ 08863
centauress6@live.com
(732) 910-8543

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:38 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: nfitchet@vbgov.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:49 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Noel Fitchett
1708 Handcross Way
Virginia Beach, VA 23456
nfitchet@vbgov.com
(757) 536-8051

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:39 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: wdstockjc@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:54 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Miskelly
218 N Tyrone Rd
Baltimore, MD 21212
wdstockjc@aol.com
(410) 336-0755

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:39 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: dhp5000@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:55 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Daniel Piasecki
150 Wrights Road
Newtown, PA 18940
dhp5000@gmail.com
2154071909

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:40 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: nazuma@naomiazuma.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:56 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Naomi Azuma
550 Grand Street, #3S
New York, NY 11211
nazuma@naomiazuma.com
(917) 865-8797

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:41 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: kinney83@comcast.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:58 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

I stand strong with Surfrider. Please protect oour oceans.Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Francis Kinney
60 Syosset Trail
Medford, NJ 08055
kinney83@comcast.net
(908) 770-8825

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:41 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: apachedevil@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Thank you for completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future. Please make sure that your final plan protects all the animals and plants that live in the ocean. By protecting them you are protecting us.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Jacobs
2203 S Bayshore Drive
Milton, DE 19968
apachedevil@gmail.com
3026842903

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:41 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: temmafish@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:59 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Temma Fishman
210 Chippewa Trail
Medford, NJ 08055
temmafish@aol.com
69-654-0718

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:42 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: www.shakakevin@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:11 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kevin Kozak
91 815 puamaeole st apt s
Ewa Beach, HI 96706
www.shakakevin@aol.com
7326443180

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:42 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jonlethia@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 2:08 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jonlethia King
1 Highstream Court
Germantown, MD 20874
jonlethia@gmail.com
(240) 632-8562

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:44 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: cferg32@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:18 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Charles Ferguson Jr
28 East 4th, Apt 5W
New York, NY 10003
cferg32@gmail.com
(516) 474-8319

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:43 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: ppwsko@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:14 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Susan O'Connor
125 Prospect Park West
Brooklyn, NY 11215
ppwsko@gmail.com
(347) 721-5905

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:44 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: George Horvath <georgerhorvath@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:21 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean. I tagged > 7,700 fish in NJ and 240 were recaptured in 11 different states.

Thank you

Sincerely,

George Horvath
105 Liberty Street
Trenton, NJ 08611
georgerhorvath@yahoo.com
(609) 695-5547

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:44 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: mikeybondoc@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:21 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Michael Bondoc
259 Elizabeth St Apt 4C
New York, NY 10012
mikeybondoc@yahoo.com
7147855717

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:45 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: halley8596@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:24 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Judy Whittington
3780 Main Bayview Rd
Southold, NY 11971
halley8596@aol.com
(631) 965-3527

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:45 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: babadrew77@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Andrew Henderson
4809 W. 96th Terr
Overland Park, KS 66207
babadrew77@yahoo.com
(913) 952-4579

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:46 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: rcmsurf@earthlink.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Robert Mereness
4607 White Ibis Ct
Wilmington, NC 28412
rcmsurf@earthlink.net
(703) 400-5824

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:46 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: tsavage9@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Tim Savage
26 Southgate Ave.
Annapolis, MD 21401
tsavage9@yahoo.com
(443) 223-1371

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:47 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: monge737@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:30 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Anthony Mongeluzo
26990 wood duck road
Millsboro, DE 19966
monge737@gmail.com
8562976048

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:47 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: colleengutwein@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:34 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Colleen Gutwein
73 grove st
Montclair, NJ 07042
colleengutwein@gmail.com
(908) 635-3407

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:48 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Jerry Rivers <jerry.rivers13@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:38 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jerry Rivers
8-Gombert place,
Roosevelt, NY 11575
jerry.rivers13@yahoo.com
(516) 670-4461

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:48 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: angela.plagge@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:40 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

I support strong protections for our beaches and ocean. Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Angela Plagge
59 Rt 47 N
Cape May Court House, NJ 08210
angela.plagge@gmail.com
6094638387

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:48 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: big_s_vt@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:36 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Scott Tidwell
38506 Velta Drive
Ocean View, DE 19970
big_s_vt@yahoo.com
(301) 266-3149

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:49 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: darcyobrien7@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:45 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Darcy O'Brien
45 Wall Street Apt 719
New York, NY 10005
darcyobrien7@gmail.com
9085911073

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:49 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: evanzane@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Evan Hammond
280 9th Street, 2nd Floor
Brooklyn, NY 11215
evanzane@gmail.com
(845) 826-3432

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:50 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Kate May <k.mayflowers@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:55 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kate May
403 E 73rd St, 2D
New York, NY 10021
k.mayflowers@gmail.com
(609) 992-7221

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: epb223@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:56 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Edward Butler
36 E 69th St
New York, NY 10021
epb223@gmail.com
(347) 266-1760

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: lauraestaline@hotmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 3:58 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Laura Smith
5650 Spinnaker Drive
Salisbury, MD 21801
lauraestaline@hotmail.com
(443) 520-1888

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:51 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: kizmiz@optimum.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:00 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Marianne Kislowski
1701 Ocean Ave. Apt 23E
Asbury Park, NJ 07712
kizmiz@optimum.net
7323616528

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:52 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: nicole4770@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:07 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Nicole Weber
356 Nature Walk
Pasadena, MD 21122
nicole4770@yahoo.com
(410) 571-7960

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:52 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jennythomas413@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:20 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jennifer Thomas
2313 London Pointe Drive
Virginia Beach, VA 23454
jennythomas413@gmail.com
(757) 358-5355

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:53 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: seasideponee@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:21 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Joni Brennan
118 Brooklyn Avenue
Lavallette, NJ 08735
seasideponee@aol.com
6099727663

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:53 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: zuk.paul@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:25 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Paul Zuk
E. Joppa Rd
Towson, MD 21286
zuk.paul@yahoo.com
(443) 847-2994

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:54 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: marychase2002@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:26 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Alison Granshaw
425 Fifth Ave
New York, NY 10016
marychase2002@yahoo.com
(646) 335-5497

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Diana Ihmann <serutandii@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:14 AM, Diana Ihmann <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. Offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of individuals as ocean users and coastal citizens.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency nor tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Diana Ihmann
73 Gold St
Valley Stream, NY 11580-4938
serutandii@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jon Rosenblatt <jon.rosenblatt@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:14 AM, Jon Rosenblatt <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jon Rosenblatt
1110 Charter St
Piscataway, NJ 08854-3308
jon.rosenblatt@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Tung <reeseowl@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:14 AM, Ann Tung <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Tung
596 Stangle Rd
Martinsville, NJ 08836-2353
reeseowl@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:12 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Madison Groninger <maddyg922@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:14 AM, Madison Groninger <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Madison Groninger
19 Blue Grass Dr
Ewing, NJ 08638-2005
maddyg922@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "gregory.a.. clewell" <gregoryduz@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:14 AM, gregory.a.. clewell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

gregory.a.. clewell
258 Fremont Ave Apt 1
Seaside Heights, NJ 08751-1817
gregoryduz@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:13 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kathy Margulis <kmargulis07@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:01 AM, Kathy Margulis <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kathy Margulis
31 Wedgewood Ln
Brookhaven, NY 11719-9708
kmargulis07@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:13 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: ian.d.dworkin@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:48 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Ian Dworkin
11880 Texas Ave.
Los Angeles, CA 90025
ian.d.dworkin@gmail.com
6105479449

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rosaline Fleming <rtfleming@verizon.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 PM, Rosaline Fleming <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rosaline Fleming
2 Eaton Ct
Hopewell, NJ 08525-1619
rtfleming@verizon.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:14 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jarrett Cloud <jadacloud9@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:44 PM, Jarrett Cloud <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jarrett Cloud
79 Central Ave Fl 1
Madison, NJ 07940-1624
jadacloud9@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:14 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: gallanosak@live.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:43 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

kristin gallanosa
504 river oak drive
Danville, VA 24541
gallanosak@live.com
(434) 251-2472

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Rita Jaskowitz <ritajaskowitz@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:31 PM, Rita Jaskowitz <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Rita Jaskowitz
121 7th Ave Apt 3f
Brooklyn, NY 11215-1311
ritajaskowitz@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Paul Russo <turtle34@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:31 PM, Paul Russo <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Paul Russo
34 Broad Ter
Bloomfield, NJ 07003-2726
turtle34@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:15 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Leigh Sands <kleighsands@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:14 PM, Leigh Sands <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Leigh Sands
24659 Mill Creek Ln
Denton, MD 21629-2360
kleighsands@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mekala Ravishankar <trmekala@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:14 PM, Mekala Ravishankar <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mekala Ravishankar
75,Morris ave
Edison, NJ 08837
trmekala@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Gioia <chazcat@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:14 PM, Linda Gioia <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Gioia
6 Millholland Dr Unit F
Fishkill, NY 12524-1555
chazcat@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Douglas Cooke <squirreltree@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:14 PM, Douglas Cooke <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Douglas Cooke
19 Marine Ave Apt C3
Brooklyn, NY 11209-6226
squirreltree@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Deborah Light <dwills8040@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:02 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Deborah Light
63 Van Dyke Rd
Princeton, NJ 08540
dwills8040@aol.com
(609) 924-1232

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Matt Ruderman <ruderman.matt@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Matt Ruderman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Matt Ruderman
18 Prospect St
South Orange, NJ 07079-2267
ruderman.matt@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Belinda Thomas <ebonyrose620@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Belinda Thomas <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Belinda Thomas
22 Saratoga Ct
Piscataway, NJ 08854-5741
ebonyrose620@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Beavin <beavin@embarqmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, John Beavin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Beavin
PO Box 444
Glen Gardner, NJ 08826-0444
beavin@embarqmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Kelly <amerlekelly@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Ann Kelly <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Kelly
2605 Rogers Walk
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-3456
amerlekelly@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Doris Campbell <dac-gdc@nyc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Doris Campbell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Doris Campbell
711 Amsterdam Ave Apt 21n
New York, NY 10025-6916
dac-gdc@nyc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: jeffrey jable <jeff_711@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, jeffrey jable <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

jeffrey jable
58 Chalfont Ln
Manchester, NJ 08759-7302
jeff_711@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: rymurf@hotmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:53 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

ryan murphy
51 seafarer lnae
Berlin, MD 21811
rymurf@hotmail.com
(410) 591-2191

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jessica Lederman <jlederman1027@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Jessica Lederman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jessica Lederman
236 Newark Ave
Jersey City, NJ 07302-2661
jlederman1027@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Don Widmyer <squwidley@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Don Widmyer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Don Widmyer
942 Salem road
New Gretna, NJ 08224
squwidley@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lindsey Paradiso <mustloveanimals12345@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Lindsey Paradiso <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lindsey Paradiso
Demarest
Sparta, NJ 07871
mustloveanimals12345@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Zebun Noormohamed <z.noormohamed@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Zebun Noormohamed <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Zebun Noormohamed
532 Howard Blvd
Lake Hopatcong, NJ 07849-2060
z.noormohamed@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:20 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dawn Sutton <dawnss@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Dawn Sutton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dawn Sutton
1501 Coventry Way
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-6708
dawnss@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:54 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: mheinc@comcast.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:29 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Dave Stickle
13 Riverdale Ave
Monmouth Beach, NJ 07750
mheinc@comcast.net
(732) 571-2391

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:55 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: drstevep19707@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Stephen Phillips
801 Yale Ave
Swarthmore, PA 19081
drstevep19707@yahoo.com
(302) 293-2197

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:55 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jsdellett@optonline.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:39 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Joan Slowey Dellett
910 Eighteenth Avenue
Belmar, NJ 07719
jsdellett@optonline.net
(732) 616-5697

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:56 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: somuch2kno@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:59 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

shira m
2268 35th street
New York, NY 11105
somuch2kno@aol.com
111-111-1111

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:56 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: deanna.list@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:11 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Deanna List
168 shore drive, oakdale, ny
Oakdale, NY 11769
deanna.list@gmail.com
(516) 870-4618

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:57 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: donnie0223@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Donna Pfeffer
429 S. Seaview Avenue
Absecon, NJ 08205
donnie0223@aol.com
(609) 432-7660

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:20 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Claudio Henriques <claudio.sh@bol.com.br>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Claudio Henriques <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Claudio Henriques
650 5th Ave
New York, NY 10019-6108
claudio.sh@bol.com.br

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:20 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: lrcgallagher@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:39 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean. You our all have put in much hard work - thanks you! While I reside in PA, I spend time from Spring through Fall on the beaches and in the beautiful Atlantic year round. (The surf's not as challenging to surf as the Pacific, but it's rad all the same!) Taking care of our ocean and beaches is important to me; I'm inspired that it's important to you too.

Thank you

Sincerely,

LRC Gallagher
264 South 10th Street, 3R
Philadelphia, PA 19107
lrcgallagher@gmail.com
(310) 487-0744

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:20 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: kbernock@usfca.edu

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kathleen Bernock
24 Joralemon St.
New York, NY 11201
kbernock@usfca.edu
(214) 995-2267

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:20 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Denise Mikics <ddmikics@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Denise Mikics <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

We cannot afford to fail to protect this natural resource.

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Denise Mikics
4240 Nottingham Way
Hamilton, NJ 08690-3812
ddmikics@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ashton McHale <ashtonmchale@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Ashton McHale <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ashton McHale
502 15th Ave
Belmar, NJ 07719-2528
ashtonmchale@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kevin Kimmel <kevinmkimmel@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Kevin Kimmel <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kevin Kimmel
Linden Place
Summit, NJ 07901
kevinmkimmel@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Harriet Hirshoren <hhirshoren@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Harriet Hirshoren <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Harriet Hirshoren
171 Lakeside Blvd
Oakland, NJ 07436-3905
hhirshoren@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Diane Fanucci <dfanucci1@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Diane Fanucci <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species. I go to the beach every summer and want it to stay clean.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Diane Fanucci
10 Davis St
Pemberton, NJ 08068-1231
dfanucci1@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:21 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Celeste Ridley <cridley5@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Celeste Ridley <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Celeste Ridley
1526 Greenwood Dr
Piscataway, NJ 08854-2041
cridley5@msn.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:22 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: "Andrew Weinberger, MD" <andyw77@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Andrew Weinberger, MD <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Andrew Weinberger, MD
311 Prospect St
South Orange, NJ 07079-1806
andyw77@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:22 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Eleanor Liggio <eliggio35@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:31 PM, Eleanor Liggio <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Eleanor Liggio
709 Old Country Rd
Elmsford, NY 10523-2021
eliggio35@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:22 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jordanslutsky@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:20 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Jordan Slutsky
2786 Ardis Place
Bellmore, NY 11710
jordanslutsky@gmail.com
6314444200

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:23 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Friend Friend <mstamminnj@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:14 PM, Friend Friend <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Friend Friend
Crescent Ave
Roselle, NJ 07203
mstamminnj@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:23 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Kelly Heyesey <heykel1008@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:14 PM, Kelly Heyesey <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Kelly Heyesey
166 Minuteman Cir
Allentown, NJ 08501-1864
heykel1008@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:23 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Mitchell Dormont <btrbrdgdn2@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:14 PM, Mitchell Dormont <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Mitchell Dormont
19b John Paul Jones Dr
Monroe Township, NJ 08831-5459
btrbrdgdn2@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:23 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Raymond Ramanauskas <raymondramanauskas@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:14 PM, Raymond Ramanauskas <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Raymond Ramanauskas
7 Tallyho Ln
Newton, NJ 07860-6060
raymondramanauskas@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:23 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ruth Boice <rlboice2@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:01 PM, Ruth Boice <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ruth Boice
162 Willow Grove Rd
Shamong, NJ 08088-8956
rlboice2@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:24 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Bernadette Belcastro <bell20@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:01 PM, Bernadette Belcastro <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Bernadette Belcastro
68 Crocus Ave
Floral Park, NY 11001-2640
bell20@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:24 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: linda cohen <oceandiscoveries@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:01 PM, linda cohen <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

linda cohen
98 Wigwam Rd
Locust, NJ 07760-2368
oceandiscoveries@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:24 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Gerry Masurat <brindlebully3@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:01 PM, Gerry Masurat <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Gerry Masurat
740 Oak Ave
Maywood, NJ 07607-1609
brindlebully3@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:24 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Don Walden <don.walden@turner.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:01 PM, Don Walden <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Don Walden
290 Ramapo Valley Rd
Mahwah, NJ 07430-1604
don.walden@turner.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:24 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: kristenkearby@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:56 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Kristen Kearby
1607 Belvue Drive
Forest Hill, MD 21050
kristenkearby@gmail.com
(410) 937-07

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: nihil1318@hotmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:52 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Michael Cloud
208 Cinnaminson Ave
Palmyra, NJ 08065
nihil1318@hotmail.com
8567860528

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jimbonnici@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:50 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

James Bonnici
42 Toomin Dr
Neptune City, NJ 07753
jimbonnici@gmail.com
(732) 309-7698

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: angie f <angie1990@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:44 PM, angie f <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

angie f
PO Box 414
New Brunswick, NJ 08903-0414
angie1990@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:25 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Diane Calkins <calkinsdm5@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:44 PM, Diane Calkins <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Diane Calkins
5831 Drexel Rd
Philadelphia, PA 19131-1213
calkinsdm5@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jerry Castor <jerrcastor@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:44 PM, Jerry Castor <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jerry Castor
904 Jamesport Dr
Toms River, NJ 08753-3647
jerrcastor@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:26 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Steven J Ercole <gypsymoth1993@hotmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 9:44 PM, Steven J Ercole <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Steven J Ercole
32 Sheridan Pl
Staten Island, NY 10312-3619
gypsymoth1993@hotmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 11:53 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Les Wilson sr <biggdawg0965@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:44 AM, Les Wilson sr <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Les Wilson sr
11905 Browns Rd
Church Road, VA 23833-2021
biggdawg0965@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 11:53 AM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Stephen Hirsch <stvhirsch@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:31 AM, Stephen Hirsch <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Stephen Hirsch
915 Lake Ave
Spring Lake, NJ 07762-1927
stvhirsch@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:19 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: chris@casey.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:33 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Chris Casey
4414 Ridgewood Court
Dumfries, VA 22025
chris@casey.com
(703) 915-5698

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:20 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: plewsen@msn.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:36 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members,

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Patrick Lewsen
21834 Granite Mountain Terrace
Ashburn, VA 20147
plewsen@msn.com
(703) 597-4172

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:24 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: ncicerale@hotmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Nicole Cicerale
493 Ryders Lane
East Brunswick, NJ 08816
ncicerale@hotmail.com
(732) 804-8622

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:25 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: wild_kard@verizon.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:39 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Karen Dawes
114 Sweet Shrub Lane
Vinton, VA 24179
wild_kard@verizon.net
(540) 890-0903

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:26 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: col.575@verizon.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:38 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Coleen Corbett
425 West Broadway
Long Beach, NY 11561
col.575@verizon.net
(516) 897-4262

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:27 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Carol Collins <ccollins54@msn.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Carol Collins
1935 Nault Road
Dover, DE 19904
ccollins54@msn.com
(302) 678-1644

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:27 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: disneyjohn@verizon.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 1:37 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Hello, Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members,

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! I applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like me in shaping this plan over the last three years.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean that is specific and significantly changes how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Thank you

Sincerely,

John Hulse
4 Lightship Dr
Rehoboth Beach, DE 19971
disneyjohn@verizon.net
(302) 645-4832

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Linda Gioia <chazcat@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:14 PM, Linda Gioia <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Linda Gioia
6 Millholland Dr Unit F
Fishkill, NY 12524-1555
chazcat@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:16 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Douglas Cooke <squirreltree@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:14 PM, Douglas Cooke <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Douglas Cooke
19 Marine Ave Apt C3
Brooklyn, NY 11209-6226
squirreltree@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: Deborah Light <dwills8040@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:02 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Deborah Light
63 Van Dyke Rd
Princeton, NJ 08540
dwills8040@aol.com
(609) 924-1232

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Matt Ruderman <ruderman.matt@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Matt Ruderman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Matt Ruderman
18 Prospect St
South Orange, NJ 07079-2267
ruderman.matt@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Belinda Thomas <ebonyrose620@aol.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Belinda Thomas <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Belinda Thomas
22 Saratoga Ct
Piscataway, NJ 08854-5741
ebonyrose620@aol.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:17 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: John Beavin <beavin@embarqmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, John Beavin <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

John Beavin
PO Box 444
Glen Gardner, NJ 08826-0444
beavin@embarqmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Ann Kelly <amerlekelly@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Ann Kelly <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Ann Kelly
2605 Rogers Walk
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-3456
amerlekelly@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Doris Campbell <dac-gdc@nyc.rr.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, Doris Campbell <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Doris Campbell
711 Amsterdam Ave Apt 21n
New York, NY 10025-6916
dac-gdc@nyc.rr.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: jeffrey jable <jeff_711@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 11:01 PM, jeffrey jable <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

jeffrey jable
58 Chalfont Ln
Manchester, NJ 08759-7302
jeff_711@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:18 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: rymurf@hotmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:53 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

ryan murphy
51 seafarer lnae
Berlin, MD 21811
rymurf@hotmail.com
(410) 591-2191

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Jessica Lederman <jlederman1027@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Jessica Lederman <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Jessica Lederman
236 Newark Ave
Jersey City, NJ 07302-2661
jlederman1027@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Don Widmyer <squwidley@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Don Widmyer <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Don Widmyer
942 Salem road
New Gretna, NJ 08224
squwidley@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Lindsey Paradiso <mustloveanimals12345@gmail.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Lindsey Paradiso <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Lindsey Paradiso
Demarest
Sparta, NJ 07871
mustloveanimals12345@gmail.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:19 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Zebun Noormohamed <z.noormohamed@yahoo.com>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Zebun Noormohamed <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Zebun Noormohamed
532 Howard Blvd
Lake Hopatcong, NJ 07849-2060
z.noormohamed@yahoo.com

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 1:20 PM
Subject: Re: My comments on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Action Plan
To: Dawn Sutton <dawnss@comcast.net>

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 10:44 PM, Dawn Sutton <feedback@lcv.org> wrote:

Aug 4, 2016

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body

Dear Regional Planning Body,

The Mid-Atlantic's ocean and bays are beautiful places for families to visit, swim, and fish. Our region's ocean is also an economic powerhouse, contributing more than $48 billion to the region's gross domestic product (GDP) and nearly 700,000 jobs. And offshore waters serve as migratory corridors and a home for ocean life, including endangered North Atlantic right whales, sea turtles, and many fish species.

As our ocean faces growing challenges of pollution, loss of habitat, and competing industrial uses, it's critical the Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan ensure a healthy ocean today and in the future. I applaud the RPB on its work to complete this first-ever draft Ocean Action Plan. I hope you will incorporate these recommendations below that will make this Plan stronger and more reflective of me, as an ocean user and coastal citizen.

The Final Ocean Action Plan must:
- Develop a robust and effective process for engaging stakeholders in Plan implementation. Right now the draft Plan's public involvement strategies are vague and variable. Stakeholders, project proponents and agencies will all benefit through a consistent, uniform engagement strategy.
- Set a short, definitive deadline - ideally by the end of this year - to identify and post on the Mid-Atlantic Ocean Data Portal areas offshore that are important for the health of marine life (ecologically rich areas or ERAs).
- Strengthen Federal agency commitments to the Plan's tools for coordinating agency decisions. It is unacceptable that even a few actions outlined in the draft Plan do not have a lead federal agency or tasks the entire RPB with overseeing implementation.

With these additions to the Plan, I know our region will take a big step forward toward a healthier Atlantic Ocean.

Sincerely.

Dawn Sutton
1501 Coventry Way
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054-6708
dawnss@comcast.net

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:54 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: mheinc@comcast.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:29 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Dave Stickle
13 Riverdale Ave
Monmouth Beach, NJ 07750
mheinc@comcast.net
(732) 571-2391

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:55 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: drstevep19707@yahoo.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:30 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Stephen Phillips
801 Yale Ave
Swarthmore, PA 19081
drstevep19707@yahoo.com
(302) 293-2197

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:55 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: jsdellett@optonline.net

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:39 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Joan Slowey Dellett
910 Eighteenth Avenue
Belmar, NJ 07719
jsdellett@optonline.net
(732) 616-5697

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:56 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: somuch2kno@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 4:59 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

shira m
2268 35th street
New York, NY 11105
somuch2kno@aol.com
111-111-1111

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:56 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: deanna.list@gmail.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:11 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Deanna List
168 shore drive, oakdale, ny
Oakdale, NY 11769
deanna.list@gmail.com
(516) 870-4618

From: MidAtlanticRPB, BOEM <boemmidatlanticrpb@boem.gov>
Date: Fri, Aug 5, 2016 at 12:57 PM
Subject: Re: Please Include ERAs in the Final Ocean Action Plan
To: donnie0223@aol.com

Thank you for submitting comments on the Draft Mid-Atlantic Regional Ocean Action Plan; we will post them on our website. The MidA RPB will consider all public comments in revising the Draft Plan, and will submit a final Plan to the National Ocean Council for its concurrence this fall. Please check our website http://www.boem.gov/Ocean-Action-Plan/ for additional information.

On Thu, Aug 4, 2016 at 5:12 PM, KnowWho Services <noreply@knowwho.services> wrote:
Dear Robert LaBelle,

Mid-Atlantic Regional Planning Body Members--

Congratulations on completing a draft of the first comprehensive plan for our oceans in the Mid-Atlantic! We applaud your hard work and commitment to listening to stakeholders like myself in shaping this plan over the last three years.

But it is precisely all of that hard work that is at risk if the final plan is not specific enough or doesn't significantly change how our oceans are managed to keep them healthy and functioning into the future.

Please use all of the data now available to you and delineate where the most productive areas of the ocean are located. Without that information how will we know where to place future projects like offshore wind farms?

The ocean planning process represents a rare opportunity to look into the future and decide what we want our ocean to look like. Please create a final ocean plan for the Mid-Atlantic that gets us to your vision of a healthy, clean, thriving ocean.

Thank you

Sincerely,

Donna Pfeffer
429 S. Seaview Avenue
Absecon, NJ 08205
donnie0223@aol.com
(609) 432-7660